The Return of Party Via

Highly Probable, Though
He May Delay Attempt.

By the Associated Press.
OSLO, Norway, May 27.—The Shipping Gazette reports that the weather at King's Bay, Spitzber-gen, from which place the Amundsen Polar expedition started, was more favorable last night than it had been some hours before.
The chairman of the Norwegian Aeronautical Association says anything is groundless and that it is premature to talk of a relief expedition.

HOEL PARTY MAY BE USED FOR A SEARCH

By H. SUNDBY-HANSEN.
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1925.)

OSLO, Norway, May 27.—It was learned here today that Roald Amundsen before his departure from Oslo had definitely asked that no rescue expedition be sent to his relief in case he did not return from his Polar flight.
Fred Thomassen, president of the Seraphim Aero Club, under whose aegis the flight was launched, said the question of relief expeditions had been up in detail and that Amundsen forbade any such endeavors. This has resulted in increasing optimism regarding Amundsen's chances as it entails the opinion that he is thoroughly engaged on researches or moving toward some unrevealed objective.

Will Await Favorable Weather.
The return via Spitzbergen, which it was considered highly probable, although the low pressure area
now sweeping the Polar basin
makes it virtually certain that Amundsen will await another favorable weather period before attempting return flight.

Meanwhile, the steamship Farm,
which the Norwegian Government loaned to Amundsen, must soon return to Tromsø for its annual summer scientific cruise under Dr.
Adolf Hoel, who helped chart the Amundsen flight. Hoel is a leading Norwegian expert on Polar explorations. His views of the Amundsen expedition were cabled
last Monday.

The Hoel expedition will leave
June 12 and will cruise
north of Spitzbergen, therefore being available for a search for Amundsen. The Spitzbergen members of the Amundsen party will be transferred to the Hoel.

NEW YORK, May 27.—The North American Newspaper Alliance announced through The Associated Press at 9 o'clock last night that it was still without word from the Amundsen-Elsworth North Pole expedition.

Is It Rent

Do those who live in rented homes pay a tribute to the owner of the house? The question of rent is a question of tribute to the owner of the house. The renter pays a tribute to the owner

Whether it is called rent or in the rent or the increase in the value of the house goes to the owner and not the renter.

Homes can be bought in certain sections today for less than they were a few years ago. They will be priced five or ten years from today. They will be free rent and profit if they are sold later.

ROBBERS SEIZE TOWN AND LEISURELY ROB BANK

Get $2500 at Brook (Ind.) Bank
After Holding Citizens
at Bay.

By the Associated Press.
KENTLAND, Ind., May 27.— Robbers, estimated to number between eight and 12, today seized
the town of Brook, Ind., under whose open the vault of the State Bank and escaped with approximately $2500. Telephone and telegraph wires leading out of the town were cut and the men proceeded in a leisurely manner to dynamite their way to the money. Citizens were held at bay.

Members of the band patrolled
the various corners in the town, stopping at the point of weapons
all citizens who ventured from their homes to investigate the five dynamite explosions that shook the place. Their "job" completed, the men clambered into two automobiles and made their escape.

Ralph Lomax, night watchman
in the town, which has some 1000 inhabitants, was overpowered by the men when he entered a gasoline filling station to get them
some gasoline. Erwin Clinton, night telephone operator, noting something amiss, tried to arouse the town with an electric siren, but it had been put out of commission.

He then ran through the streets
notifying citizens of the holdup.

wright and a resident of Brook,

WOMEN EMPLOYEES AT CITY

They Must Tell Whether They Are Married and, If So, What Their Husbands Are Doing.

Women employees at City Hall
have received a questionnaire
which they must answer under oath
relative to whether they are married or single and if married, their husbands' name, occupation and business connections. Two women have thus far admitted they had been secretly married and are resigning June 1.

The action was taken at the suggestion of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, which must weed out between 250 and 300 of the present employees to come with in various departmental appropriations. It was suggested that those who should be discharged first should include married women whose husbands are capable of supporting them.

There are about 200 women employed as secretaries, clerks and stenographers in the City Hall and Municipal Courts Building. The order will not extend to the various city institutions.

Mount Owned by H. E.
Morris of Shanghai, China, Captures Turf Classic
—The Sirdar, American's Entry, Places Third.

By the Associated Press.
EPSON DOWNS, May 27.—Manna won the Derby, classic of the English flat racing season, run here today. Zionist ran second and The Sirdar third.

The official time was 2 minutes
40 3-5 seconds.

Manna, owned by H. E. Morris, of Shanghai, China, is by Phalaris
out of Waffios. The Aga Khan owns Zionist, by Spearpoint out of Judea. A. K. McComber, an American, owns The Sirdar, by McKinley out of Gibbs.

Manna won in a canter by eight lengths. Two lengths separated the second third runners. Twenty-seven ran.

The betting was: Manna 9 to 1 against; Zionist 10 to 1 against; and
The Sirdar 50 to 1 against.

Steve Donoghue, famous English jockey, was up on Manna and won the Derby for the sixth time. This puts him one ahead of all jockeys
who have competed in the famous classic. His nearest competitor is the well-known jockey, Fred Archer, who won five Derbies.

Heavy Rain Falls.

At noon three hours before the start of the derby, a heavy rain began falling and there was a half gale blowing.

Lord Astor's Cross Bow, starting as a favorite, was not among the first six. This was a great disappointment to Lord Astor, who has had a colt run second in five Derbies and who was thought to have a splendid chance to win this year.

The placing of The Sirdar, owned by the American A. K. McComber, and sired by the famous McKinley,
pleased hundreds of Americans who braved the heavy rain to see the performance of the only horse
in the race representing American interests. The Sirdar was an outsider at 50 to 1 and none of the experts had picked him even for a place.

The most important of these charges was the omission in today's indictment of any charge of
bribery. In the indictment dismissed last month Fall had been accused of accepting a bribe of $100,000 for using his official influence to secure the California
lease for the Doheny interests.

Not only was Edward L. Doheny charged in the original indictment with implication in the attempt to "bribe" Fall through delivery to him of the celebrated $100,000 in a black suitcase, but his father and Fall in the conspiracy charge. Today's grand jury report, however, contains no charges against him on either score.

In other respects, however, the new indictments are more comprehensive than the old. While the old indictments merely charged a conspiracy to obtain the leases to the lands included in the new reserves, those returned today allege that the conspiracy embraced the sale of oil to the Government without competitive bidding, the purchase of storage facilities, the buying of kerosene, lubricating oil and petroleum and the adoption of a credit sale method of purchase
by which no cash passed to the United States.

Among the overt acts named in the Doheny indictment is the alleged payment of the $100,000 by the elder Doheny to Fall. The indictment also differs from its predecessor in that it refers specifically to the contracts of April 25, 1922, and Dec. 11, 1922, and setting out the lease of the California
Naval Reserve executed Dec.
11, 1922.

The Sinclair indictment also names alleged overt acts in addition to those set forth in the indictment of last year. Chief among these are the alleged passage of $230,500 in Liberty Bonds from Sinclair to Fall through means of the Continental Trading Co., Limited, a Canadian corporation, the execution of the lease of April 7, 1922, to Teapot Dome and the execution of a construction contract dated Feb. 8, 1923.

FALL, DOHENY AND SINCLAIR INDICTED
AGAIN IN OIL CASE

Previous Indictments Had Been Dismissed on Technicality—Conspiracy Charged by Government.

E. L. DOHENY JR.
NOT RE-INDICTED

Many of Witnesses Who Had Appeared in the First Instance Were Recalled.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 27.—Albert
B. Fall, Edward L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair, whose indictments as a result of the oil scandal
recently were dismissed on a technicality, were reindicted today by a District of Columbia Grand Jury.

As in the previous case, the indictments charged conspiracy in connection with the Teapot Dome
and Elk Hill oil leases.

Edward L. Doheny Jr., who previously had been indicted, was not reindicted.

The original indictments, returned here last summer, were thrown out of court on April 3 last,
on the ground that the indictment officers of the Department of Justice had been present in the grand jury room, and that his presence was illegal because prosecution of the case was in the hands of the Government's special oil counsel.

With the assembling of a new jury many of the witnesses who had appeared in the first instance were recalled, and much of the documentary evidence gathered in the Senate off inquiry likewise was resubmitted.

Not only were the indictments returned today follow up the charges of those dismissed last month, but in some respects charges were made.

Bribery Charge Omitted.
The most important of these
day's indictment of any charge of

ROME, May 27.—An Italian
sportman, Giuseppe Rossariola, leaving Rome June 2, plans to row
and sail single-handed a small boat to Europe, North and South America.

He plans to touch at Leghorn,
Genoa, Nantard, Marseilles, then
by the Rhone canal and the Seine,
will cross France after negotiating the canal and will put his oars
away for canvas, which he hopes will take him across the Atlantic to Montreal.

He has planned an itinerary calling for stops at Boston, New York and at various points along the Atlantic Coast, Mexico and Central American countries. After rowing through the Panama Canal Rossariola hopes to go down the west coast of South America, visiting Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Chile. After rounding Terry Del Fuogo, he will proceed up the Atlantic Coast to Buenos Aires, Montideo and Rio de Janeiro. Fur-

INVESTIGATED ACTS OF MILLSPAUGH

McCutchan and Myers, Both Connected With Depository, Also Mentioned in Inquiry.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MEMPHIS, Mo., May 27.—It became known here today that the Scotland County grand jury investigating the failure of the Citizens Trust Co. of Gorin and the official conduct of its directors and of the then State Finance Commissioner, Frank C. Millspaugh, has voted about 20 indictments.

The jury's report will be made to Circuit Judge Newland M. Pett-
ingill late today or tomorrow, at which time all or part of the indictments will be made public. It is understood that Jerome B. Mc-
Cutchan of St. Louis, intimate friend of Millspaugh, and Roy T.
Myers of Gorin, who made the
original charges against Millspaugh,
are among those indicted.

In its correspondence submitted
to Circuit Judge Newland M. Pett-
ingill late today or tomorrow, at
which time all or part of the in-
Cutchan of St. Louis, intimate
friend of Millspaugh, and Roy T.
Myers of Gorin, who made the
original charges against Millspaugh,
are among those indicted.

The charge that Millspaugh was aware of the Gorin depository's unsafe condition and failed to remedy
it to protect the depositories and general creditors was backed by oral testimony and a mass of correspondence. The correspondence included letters from the Federal Reserve Bank at St. Louis, advising Millspaugh of the unsafe condition of the depository. The depository was not closed until after the failure of the Citizens Trust Co. was announced.

The charge made against Millspaugh
by Myers, that he permitted
the irregular operations of the trust company, because its directors had paid him $25,500, was not considered by the grand jury, owing to lack of jurisdiction, as the payment is alleged to have been announced at Canton, in Lewis County. Further grand jury investigations of Millspaugh seem likely.

Directors' Acts Considered.
It is known that the grand jury considered the responsibility of the directors in receiving deposits at a time when the bank was said to be insolvent. The directors were Mc-Cutchan, Myers, his father, A.
Smith Myers, John W. Thomas and Miss Anna Monroe, assistant cashier.

Some of the indictments are rumored to charge forgery and obtaining money by false pretenses.
Neither McCutchan nor Myers was subpoenaed to appear before the jury, despite their offers to do so. McCutchan, in a letter signed by his attorneys, A. M. Frumberg and Mortimer Lyon of St. Louis, which was laid before the grand jury
last week, offered to waive immunity and "tell everything" if admitted to the grand jury room. McCutchan was in Memphis last Friday for a few hours.

Myers' attorney, L. W. Reid, was here last week waiting for a subpoena for his client, but it was never served. Myers himself has stayed away from Memphis to avoid arrest and even remained away from Hannibal this week,
where a subpoena had been issued for him to appear before a Federal Grand Jury investigating an incident matter growing out of the Gorin failure.

Assistant Attorney-General W.
L. Vandeventer said he regarded it as improper for probable defendants to appear before grand juries.
Prosecuting Attorney C. L.
Moore said McCutchan and Myers both should testify, or neither should.

Drop of French Franc Continues.
By the Associated Press.
PARIS, May 27.—The drop of the franc in the exchange market has been continuous thus far this week. The pound sterling is quoted at more than 96 francs, the highest since March of last year, and the dollar is touching 26 francs. The movement has caused no perturbation, however, being attributed to competent circles to large covering purchases by French importers.

BEER PLOT A TRAP SET FOR BREWERY, HEBER NATIONS TESTIFIED

Figures at Trial of Former State Official Charged With "Protecting" Sale of Real Beer Here

CHARLES S. PRATHER HEBER NATIONS GUS NATIONS JOHN C. DYOTT PROSECUTOR IN NATIONS CASE JEAN GUALDONI RAYMOND B. GRIESEDECK

loons were selling another beer than his.

Before the Government rested its case at 10:30 a. m., the second count of the indictment was dismissed. This count charged Nations and the other defendants, who are Government witnesses, with conspiring to defraud the Government of $2780 due to it under the internal revenue laws.

The defense placed Nations on the stand immediately. He sat well forward in his chair, and spoke in a loud, clear voice. At times, to emphasize his statements, he brought his hand down on the railing by the witness chair with a loud slap.

Nations said, in answer to questions by Patrick H. Cullen, his attorney, that he lives at Jefferson City, is 24 years old and is married. To the question about his married state Special Assistant Attorney-General Davis objected and Judge Faris, presiding at the trial, sustained him, observing that the "same law applies to married men as to bachelors."

Gives Occupation as Publisher.

He gave his occupation as publisher of the Jefferson City Post as a daily newspaper, and declared he had lived in Jefferson City for 11 years.

"Do you know Charles Prather?" was Cullen's first question touching upon the issue of the case. "Yes," Nations replied.

"How long have you known him?" "About four years."

"Did you ever have conversation with him about the Griesedieck brewery?" "Yes."

Nations related that the conversation about the brewery occurred while he and Prather were passengers on a Missouri Pacific train bound for St. Louis from Jefferson City. He fixed the time as the latter part of April, 1932.

"I remember the conversation very well," Nations said in response to a request to detail it. "I asked Prather if he would agree to help me in a difficult situation which confronted me. I told him that my brother, Gus, who was then group chief of prohibition agents at St. Louis, had asked me to help him get some confidential information about the Griesedieck brewery."

"I explained to Prather why it was necessary for Gus to get the information for which he had asked me. Gus had had a row with the brewery over the reluctance of its permit to operate."

"I told Prather that a prohibition agent named Baker had caught the brewery making beer by hiding under a truck at the brewery while it was being loaded. I told him how Baker had hid there until finally Mr. Wagner, the brewmaster, had come to the wagon after the last case had been loaded and had told the driver to drive like hell."

Tells of Conversation.

Telling further of his conversation on the train with Prather, Nations said:

"I told Prather of the political pull that the brewery had, and how Mr. Dyott, assistant to the Attorney-General here, had refused to prosecute them in one instance, and in another had let them off with an insignificant fine. I told him how, following a raid, three temporary permits were issued to the brewery, under which it continued to operate."

"I told him that it was absolutely vital that Gus catch that brewery," Nations said. "You know that 'Hank' Weeks and those St. Louis bums are after Gus. They say he's not right bright, that he's crooked, and they're after him constantly in Washington and from every angle. And I explained to him that if we could get this brewery, we could show that he was a conscientious and fearless officer."

"I told him now necessary it was to get inside information in a case of this kind, pointing out that a case could not be made against the brewery without that sort of information. I told him it never had been done."

"I explained the operations of a brewery to him, anything about the prohibition agents might watch the place every minute, every hour, for a month, and then when they relaxed their vigilance for a day the brewery might flood the town with beer, with the fact that the brewery was going to run."

"I told him that I knew it wasn't much of a job for him, but that it meant a lot to me. Prather replied that he would like to help me but he was afraid if he went to the brewery people himself, to establish the alliance that I suggested, that it would cause them to become suspicious and said that he thought if I could get somebody who knew both him and the brewery people that it might work out better."

"I told him that I could arrange that as I knew a prohibition agent who I thought knew those people, and I would get in touch with him."

Nations then testified that he saw L. J. Gualdoni, a former prohibition agent, who was an important Government witness. He testified that Gualdoni told him that Raymond Griesedieck was in charge of the brewery and declared that he asked Gualdoni to get in touch with Griesedieck and ask the brewer to see Prather at the Jefferson Hotel.

Nations said he saw Prather later and was told by Prather that he had seen Griesedieck. He said they had had a nice little chat. Nations continued, referring to Prather and Griesedieck, "They talked about the brewery business, particularly the manufacture of beverages, and Prather said he felt their acquaintance might ripen into a friendship that would prove valuable."

"Did Prather at any later date tell you of the operation of the brewery?" Cullen interrupted.

"No," Nations replied. "He never told me he had found anything unlawful. I mean, a little anxious about this matter and I pressed him frequently for the information I had asked him to get, but he seemed to be doubtful about the whole proposition. He told me on one occasion he had had a beer at the plant, but I understood he'd just had a drink or two. He never told me the brewery was putting beer out for sale."

Keenan and Paris Raids.

"Do you recall the Keenan and Paris raids?" asked Attorney Cullen.

"Yes," Nations replied. "It came about this way: I saw Prather at the Jefferson Hotel and he told me our friend, Griesedieck, was making beer. I asked him how he knew. He said a friend of his had told him about it and he said this fellow had bought it at Keenan's and at a saloon at Grand and Hebert."

"What did you do then?"

"I called my brother, Gus, and told him about it. A few days later, when Prather came back to Jefferson City, I told him that those two dumps had been raided."

"Did you get any information after that?" Cullen asked. "No, sir."

Phoned Prather About Raids.

"Prather said on this witness stand that you called him on the telephone after the raid. Is that correct?" "Yes, that's right. I called him from Jefferson City."

Here Cullen, by questioning, showed that Nations, as publisher of the Jefferson City Post, gets Associated Press dispatches and hence out news of the Griesedieck brewery raid on Feb. 21, 1932, before the general public got it. Nations described the dispatches on the raid as saying that Gus Nations had seized a quantity of beer at the brewery and that State officers were believed involved in the plot to make real beer at the plant.

"I called Prather on the telephone and told him of the news," Nations testified. "When I came to the statement that State officers were involved, I said: 'What do you know about that?' and he said he knew nothing. I told him to come to Jefferson City right away. He got there early in the morning and when he phoned me I told him to come out to my home at once. There I asked him again if he knew anything about State officers being involved in the beer plot."

Nations Quotes Prather.

"Prather said, 'Well, it looks like I'm ruined.' 'What do you mean?' I asked. 'Well, he said, you got me to help catch that brewery and now those fellows will be after me and they have enough power to put me in jail.'"

"I told him he had had nothing to do with catching the brewery and showed him a letter from my brother, Gus, in which Gus said that my tip on the two St. Louis saloons was good, but that the tip didn't help to catch the brewery."

"I showed him that in the letter Gus said he wanted further information as to when the brewery would run again."

"It appeared from Nations' testimony that this letter was sent him by Gus some time prior to the raid. Heber Nations went on to relate how he had got another tip on the brewery operation. This tip, he said, was a good one and explained Gus Nations' hurried trip from Kansas City to St. Louis to raid the brewery on Feb. 21, 1932.

"I went on to tell Prather how my wife and I had gone to St. Louis to attend a Lincoln day banquet. Nations testified that there, officials met a frequenter of Buck Keenan's saloon. This fellow promised to tell me when Buck was going to have some real beer to sell."

Tipped Gus to Raid Brewery.

"Afterwards this man wrote me a letter," Nations testified, saying that Buck would have beer to sell. Nations called Gus back from Kansas City right away to raid the brewery."

The witness then related his version of meetings with former Prohibition Agent Gualdoni, who has testified for the government that he arranged, by request of Nations, the first meeting between Commissioner Prather and Griesedieck.

"I called him after the raid and asked him what he knew about it," Nations related. "I said I knew nothing except what he had told me in the newspaper. I asked him to find out what he could and let me know."

"A second time I called Jean and asked him what he had found out. He said he had no information and didn't want to delve into the matter. I said, 'Well, Jean, that was some accomplishment of ours to raid that big brewery.' He said, 'Don't say that. I'm no longer a Government agent.'"

"I said, 'Don't you know that was what I was after when I got Prather and Griesedieck together?' Jean said no, that he hadn't known that."

Gus' Letter to Heber.

From a pocket Nations produced two letters which were ordered marked as Exhibits A and B. Exhibit A was a letter purporting to have been written to Heber by Gus. It bore no envelope and was undated. In explanation of a term used in the letter Nations explained, before Cullen attempted to read it, that Gus was known to members of the family by the nickname "Spit."

The letter, read in evidence by Cullen, follows:

Dear Heber:

I am writing you tonight from my law office, rather than from the Federal Building, as I need some more help in the beer matter and it would be just as well for you to address your answer to my home as the information might slip.

Your tip on the saloons was good and we found beer in the places but it wasn't good enough to enable us to catch the brewery. (Gus a prohibition agent at that time) is watching the brewery as much as he can and I look for some more beer to go to work. It is a difficult job, however, as it is so easy for a prohibition agent to be spotted in the neighborhood and even the presence of a stranger near the brewery is a warning to the brewers to watch their step.

It's a hard job checking them. They could haul out a truck load of beer if they had the nerve and probably get away with it. I'm sure if we rushed out from hiding and only found a few barrels of beer, we would be covered. It does look as though the law is drawn to protect the crook, but I must catch them according to Hoyle.

I have thought of a new way of getting information. It is so simple that I am surprised that I didn't think of it after we raided those two saloons. Could the man who gave you the dope on the brewery and only found a few barrels of beer, have been again? If he could, we would know that the brewery was going to run and get down there and catch them. I can't get this dope as all my men are known.

We are snowed under with investigations and the detail watching that infernal brewery makes a drain on my staff. See your man and let me know what you can do. If I get the information I believe I can ring the bell.

Letter All Typewritten.

The letter was written on a typewriter and the signature "Spit" was typed. Heber Nations testified that he didn't have the envelope in which the letter was sent and could not establish definitely when the letter was written. The letter was written on stationery with the letterhead of "Gus O. Nations, Attorney at Law, 1502 International Life Building."

Cullen introduced in evidence, as Exhibit B, a letter written on the official stationery of the State Labor Commissioner's office in the Postoffice Building, St. Louis, which said "Thursday and Friday will be the dates. Hope this is what you want." It was signed "M. H. McFarland."

Cullen sought to show that McFarland, who was superintendent of the men's bureau of the State Free Employment Agency, wrote the letter to appraise Nations, his superior in the State Labor Department, of the times when the Keenan and Paris saloons would be selling real beer. Objections to the questions were sustained, on the ground that the statement was a "self-serving" one. Later, on cross-examination, Nations was permitted to tell who McFarland was.

Nations said he told Prather that he got a letter from Gus, asking for information about the Griesedieck brewery. "I got a man who frequented Buck Keenan's place," he said, "to let me know when Buck was going to have beer. When I got his letter, I brought Gus back from Kansas City to raid them."

Denies Getting Any Money.

"Did Gus ask for your assistance?" An objection by the Government was sustained.

"Did you ever receive any money from Prather, or from any source, to permit the Griesedieck brewery to make beer?" "I should say not."

"Did you ever receive any information that Prather was receiving money from Griesedieck?" "No."

"Did you ever receive any information about publication of matters concerning this case?"

"He told me it seemed he was going to be hounded for trying to help me catch the brewery for Gus."

Tells of Questioning Prather.

"Did you ask him if he was culpable, and had received any money?" "Yes, and he said 'of course not.'"

"Did you ask him to give you information he had given me about the two saloons?"

"Did you ever meet Griesedieck in Hotel Jefferson or anywhere?" "No, sir."

An attempt to bring out Heber Nations' activity in liquor raids in Cole County was prevented, when objections to questions on that line were sustained.

Mrs. Willebrandt then took up cross-examination. She is under subpoena as a witness for the defense.

Her first question was whether Prather, in April, 1932, at the time of the conversation on the train, had said that he was a prohibition agent, or that work had then been assigned to his office. "I don't know," Nations said.

"Do you know the date when the law was passed abolishing the office of State Beverage Inspector?" "No, sir."

Didn't Know Prather's Duties.

"Your recollection is that you don't know whether he was a Beverage Inspector or not?" "Yes, but I think he was."

"You and Prather were good friends at that time?" "Yes."

"Did you and he stay together on that visit to St. Louis?" "I can't say. Sometimes I went to the Jefferson, sometimes to the Claridge and sometimes to my brother Gus' house." He said, in answer to further questions, that he came to St. Louis with Prather frequently, saw him often while he was in town, but didn't know when he was with him besides those to which he testified.

Reported Brewery, He Says.

"In January, 1932, Prather told you that Griesedieck was running and that two places were putting out his beer and you gave the names of the places to your brother, Gus?" "Yes."

"You have mentioned Mr. McFarland as a frequenter of those places." "I didn't say that."

"Well, you said you had got the man to let you know when the would have beer. Who is McFarland?" "He was superintendent of the men's bureau of the State Free Employment Agency."

"Have you known him long?" "Since childhood."

Questioned by Mrs. Willebrandt.

"Why did you go to Gualdoni

after the raid?" asked Mrs. Willebrandt. "Because he got Griesedieck in touch with Prather," Nations replied.

"What information did you want him to get?" "I wanted him to get information concerning the stories about Prather and Griesedieck."

"You testified that you called Prather after the raid?" "Yes."

"Why did you call him at 2 a. m.?" "Because I wanted to talk to him."

Mrs. Willebrandt then picked up the letter written by Gus Nations to Heber Nations and asked where the envelope was. The witness replied that he did not have it. Mrs. Willebrandt observed that the letter appeared to have been kept folded, and the witness said it had, in reply to another question, the witness said he had not looked for the envelope recently. Mrs. Willebrandt called his attention to the fact that the whole letter, including its signature, "Spit," had been typewritten.

Explains Prather's Call.

"Prather came to see you at 2 o'clock in the morning?" she asked. "He got in Jefferson City on an early morning train."

"You asked him if he got any money—what did he answer?" "He answered 'Of course not.'"

"Why did you send him to Griesedieck after that conference?" "I didn't. I didn't know he went to Griesedieck."

"You didn't know that until this trial?" "No."

Mrs. Willebrandt questioned Nations about the letter from McFarland. Nations said McFarland was in charge of the State Free Employment Bureau here, and thus had access to official stationery. The letter was in longhand, and Nations said he could swear it was McFarland's writing. Its envelope was missing, and Nations said he had not saved it. The letter was dated Feb. 18, 1932, and Nations said he received it the following day.

Tells of Calling Gus Back.

"Did you communicate with Gus after receiving it?" "I telephoned him."

"Why did he go to Kansas City then?" "Because he had business there."

"Well, then he left town on the day prior to that pointed out in the letter as being a 'danger day'?" "I communicated with Gus in Kansas City and sent him back to St. Louis."

Parts of Letter Introduced.

On redirect examination another letter was introduced in evidence by the defense. It was a torn piece of paper which had been pasted upon another sheet to hold it together and the tears on its edges had deleted the dates and some of the words of the communication. Addressed "Spit," it read:

The information I wanted to bring you ought not to wait until Friday but could not give it over the phone tonight. The breweries run when you are out of town. I have information (here the page is torn)—Griesedieck Thursday or Friday. You should slip back quickly. The letter apparently was signed, "Lovingly, Heber."

Did Nations say that the phrase rendered the plain phrase intelligible.

Heber said this letter was written to Gus Nations at Kansas City on Feb. 18, 1932, and the inference was that it was this communication which sent Gus Nations hurrying back to St. Louis to raid the brewery on the twenty-first, under the noses of general prohibition agents who had assembled to raid the brewery in the Government's investigation of "protected" beer sales.

Nations left the stand at 12:05 p. m. and was followed by Prohibition Agent M. L. Hogg, for the defense. Hogg was a Government witness yesterday. He said that on June 20, 1932, he and Gus Nations went to the vicinity of the Griesedieck brewery, and the American Brewery plant at 2500 South Broadway.

Reading from a memorandum book, Hogg said there was no activity at the Griesedieck plant and remarked that he had erroneously testified yesterday that he and Nations had followed a wagon from the plant. It was from the American plant that they followed the wagon, he said, and it proved to be loaded with beverage.

He was asked if he was in town on the following dates: May 15, 22, 23, 28, 1932; June 1, 11, 12, 18, 20, 22, Aug. 2, Dec. 6, Feb. 5, 1934; Feb. 15 and 21. Referring to his memorandum book to refresh his memory, he replied affirmatively.

On the day of the Griesedieck raid, he said, Gus Nations' agents entered the brewery at 9:25 or 9:30 a. m. The general agents, he said, did not arrive at the plant for an hour or an hour and a half.

At this point the court recessed for luncheon.

Griesedieck Describes Process of Making Cereal Beverage.

Griesedieck was recalled this morning by Special Prosecutor Dyott, to identify the permit issued to the brewery for the manufacture of cereal beverages. This permit was in force at the time when the brewery was violating the law by distributing beer of unlawful alcoholic content.

Griesedieck was asked to describe the legitimate process of making cereal beverage. He said that beer of 4 1/2 to 5 per cent alcoholic content was first manufactured, and was then de-alcoholized by reboiling and evaporation.

Griesedieck's reappearance on the stand gave Attorney Cullen an opportunity to renew cross-examination of the brewer. Cullen asked several questions to which objections were sustained, and Cullen read into the record his offer to produce proof of statements implied in his questions.

The Questions Ruled Out.

The questions which were ruled out in this manner were:

"Did you know what the issuance of your permit was objected to by Gus Nations, Federal prohibition officer, on recommendation of Heber Nations?"

"Had you violated the Volstead act previous to the issuance of the permit?"

"Have you ever offered to plead guilty to such violation?"

Cullen then questioned Griesedieck again as to his expectations of immunity from prosecution, as a result of his testimony, and as to any negotiations or promises to that end. Judge Faris ruled that such questions could be admitted only if the time and place of the alleged offer were specified, and the person by whom it was supposed to be made were named.

Answering one of the questions as to his expectation of immunity, the witness said, "I haven't given it a thought; never bothered about it."

Louis Sklarer, former member of the prohibition intelligence unit, testified to seeing Prather and Griesedieck together at Hotel Jefferson, and he told how he and other men of the special unit went to the vicinity of the Griesedieck brewery, Feb. 21, 1932, waiting for an order to raid the plant.

"After we waited an hour," he said, "some linemen told us we were slow, that the brewery had been raided already." E. B. Hansen, another of the unit, gave similar testimony.

Hotel Register Introduced.

The showing from the Hotel Jefferson register as to dates and Nations and Prather, was that Nations and Prather were in the hotel on the following dates: April 22, 1932; April 23, 1932; April 24, 1932; May 14, 1932; May 21, 1932; May 28, 1932; June 1, 1932; June 2, 1932; June 3, 1932; June 4, 1932; June 5, 1932; June 6, 1932; June 7, 1932; June 8, 1932; June 9, 1932; June 10, 1932; June 11, 1932; June 12, 1932; ESTIFIES for the safe return of the Amundsen expedition was being made today by Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic explorer, who believes that any one of several reasons might have delayed the return of the expedition. The mere problem of locating the pole itself by astronomical observations, MacMillan said, might in itself have required several days to accomplish.

"It is inconceivable," he asserted, "that any man, however good a pilot, can fly from the north end of Spitzbergen for a distance of 400 miles in a straight line and drop down upon the North Pole or even within 50 miles of it."

SCIENTISTS TO INTRODUCE

RADIOS TO HEADHUNTERS
Expedition to Penetrate Unmapped Plateau in South America is Planned.

By the Associated Press.
LIVERPOOL, England, May 27.—Jazz records and radios are to be introduced to the head hunters on the Colombian-Peruvian border in South America. Three modern devices will be part of the equipment of an expedition headed by Dr. William Montgomery McGovern, who plans this summer to penetrate the unmapped plateau between the Andes and the Amazon Valley and make friends with the savages.

Little is known of these head hunters except that they have Maku Pigmy slaves and shrink the heads of their victims by a secret process to the size of an apple.

Dr. McGovern has left for Brazil to organize his party. In addition to the noise-making devices, he will take with him into the jungles, mirrors, colored beads, seashells, knives, artificial eyes and other articles. He will also give demonstrations of the action of certain chemicals to impress the natives with his powers. He expects to be gone a year.

Watermelons Are Being Shipped.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 27.—The watermelon season is fast getting underway, notwithstanding that in the nine earliest producing states the present entire watermelon acreage is decidedly less than at any time since 1919. Harvesting and shipping by the United States Government Bureau of Economics is now taking place from plantings of 105,460 acres in the early nine states, as compared with 135,000 acres for 1924, and 126,000 for 1923.

Next to Georgia, Texas and Florida, the three leading states, South Carolina has about 10,000 acres, Alabama 7,000 and North Carolina about 20,000. At the opposite corner of the country, the Imperial Valley of California, has about 4,000 acres in watermelons, an increase over each of the last two years for that section.

ACTIVE ANONYMOUS LETTERS IN RAIDS

Communications Citing Alleged Liquor Sales Result in Visits to Several Places—96 Arrests Made.

Police activity against saloons, handbook operators and operators of criminals, yesterday night resulted in 96 arrests taken in the police dragnet. Of these 35 were robbery suspects, two of whom were arrested in 10 saloons where liquor was found, and six were held on gambling charges following raids on cigar stores and other establishments where racing bets were being made.

Patrolmen Henry Bentlage and Arthur Schutts visited the saloon at 1406 Pine street, at 2 p. m. yesterday, and found a gallon of whiskey in a tub of beer in a rear room. They returned with a warrant and searched Calciotta's residence on the second floor of the two vacant floors above. They seized 27 bottles of beer, two cases of malt and two cases of empty flasks along with considerable quantity of mash, and on the fourth floor 30 gallons of whiskey in six five-gallon cans. The proprietor and his wife, Angeli, were arrested and, upon the officers' advice, the two had paid $20 apiece to "forget it."

Booked pending application for warrants.

Woman Proprietor Held.
The second woman arrested was Elizabeth Ternes, 36 years old, proprietor of a saloon at 3137 Broadway. Officers visited the place yesterday afternoon as a result of anonymous complaints that she had been selling beer. She was reported finding men with stins of beer before her and a bottle of the same beverage stood on the icebox.

A summons letter declaring that she was operating a combination saloon and saloon at 2707 North Twelfth street and that beer was being sold in the place led to her arrest yesterday by Detective Sergeant O'Connell and his "buddy."

In the cellar they reported finding 140 pints of beer and a small quantity of whiskey. Fred Seger, the bartender, was arrested. He said the beer was created by George Schaefer and the grocer by George Schaefer.

Upon other anonymous letters, a detective patrolman was sent to a saloon at 2419 North Twelfth street. When he reported buying drinks of whiskey, the "buddy" searched the place and arrested James O'Brien, the bartender. The search was said to have resulted in 17 cases and 20 bottles of beer in the basement.

Minuteman Brewery Found.
Acting upon information that a saloon was being sold at the grocery of George Otto, 2337 Magnolia avenue, Detective Sergeant Schutts visited the place and found a clerk in charge. The clerk admitted knowledge of any bootlegging operations, and Otto was summoned to the place. In the meantime the officers searched the place and reported finding a pint of whiskey and eight empty bottles. Otto was arrested when he tried to flee.

Arthur H. Rosenfelder, proprietor of a restaurant and coffee shop at 2336 Washington boulevard, was arrested when officers searched the place and reported finding four cases of beer, nine quarts of wine, a quart of gin and a quart of whiskey in a shed in the rear.

Patrolmen, visiting the saloon of Purcell, 2200 Randolph street, reported seizing a half pint of whiskey, a quart of wine and a five-gallon can half filled with whiskey. Purcell was arrested.

George Bechtold, proprietor of a saloon at 3203 California avenue, was taken into custody after police reported a search of his place had resulted in discovery of a quart of whiskey and six bottles of home-made beer.

Handbook Raid.
The handbook raids of yesterday night, with a visit by the gambling police to a saloon operated by Ahern at 211 North Twelfth street, Ahern was arrested and racing forms and tabs were confiscated. A later, the officers visited a saloon store at 1200 Olive street and arrested George McElroy, of 4226 Olive avenue, the proprietor. The reported finding of a handbook was made.

Harry Wisler, a clerk, was taken into custody on similar charges following search of a cigar store at Olive and Clem O'Leary, proprietor of a pressing shop at 113 Eighteenth street, was arrested later in the day when the officers found what they said was a

Search Made for Young Indian Heiress to Fortune

MAUD LEE MUDD of Miami, Ok., 16-year-old Indian heiress for whom Oklahoma officers and representatives of the Indian Bureau have been searching. She disappeared from the home of her mother, Mrs. Susan Bomberly at Miami, Saturday, before the officers could serve an order of the Oklahoma Supreme Court restoring her to her guardian, William Simms of Vinita, Ok., following a long court fight for her custody. The mother believes her daughter has been kidnapped.

The girl will inherit an estate valued at approximately $1,200,000, derived from lead and zinc mining lands in Ottawa County, Ok., and oil lands in the central part of the state.

Albert Kramer, who gave his address as 7284 North Taylor avenue, was arrested when police raided a cigar store at 508 Chestnut street, and Barney McDonald of 508 Pine street, was taken into custody when the gambling squad entered a cigar store at 611 Pine. Marked racing forms were said to have been found in both places. Both men were booked on vagrancy charges.

STREET MUSICIAN WITH CUP NOT A BEGGAR, JUDGE RULES
Rosen Can Discharge Cornet Player on Ground That He Didn't Beg.

A blind musician playing an instrument on the street has as much right to receive the coins that are dropped into his cup as a concert artist has to receive, box office proceeds, Police Judge Rosen held today in discharging Clifford Price, 21 years old, of 5814 Kensington avenue, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of begging.

Price was arrested at Sixth and Pine streets by Traffic Sergeant Schaeferkoetter. He was playing a cornet and coins were being dropped into his tin cup by passersby. The officer testified he had previously ordered the man to "move on" when he saw him near Sixth and Olive and later arrested him because he had been "ordered" to do so, explaining the instructions to the police were to arrest all beggars.

Judge Rosen, however, held the man wasn't begging unless he asked for money, and when the officer admitted the contributions were unolicited, declared the prisoner should not have been brought into court. If people wish to do so, he asserted, they are entitled to pay for music on the street just as they are for hearing it in a theater.

TWO ROBBERS CAPTURED
By the Associated Press.
AURORA, Ill., May 27.—Two of three robbers who this morning robbed the pawnshop of Sherman Arenkell, 53, were captured shortly before noon at Geneva, Ill., 10 miles north of here on the Lincoln Highway.

City Marshal Anderson of Geneva caught the robbers when they drove up a street that ended at a graveyard. They surrendered without a fight. They gave the names of Felix Nicell, 22, and Thomas Malony, 23, Chicago. On Malony was found $98 of $200 in cash taken from Arenkell. Eight revolvers taken from the pawnshop were found in the abandoned car.

American Goes to India for Bride.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 27.—George F. Porter, capitalist, raced across the world to the heart of India last month to win Mlle. Mina de Manjari of Paris, whom he had met when she visited in this country five years ago. He won his suit, dispatches last night from Octacund, India, said, adding that the wedding is to take place in that city June 3.

Porter is 42 years old. His bride-to-be is about 28, and is half Russian and half French in ancestry. She went to India a year ago to study theosophy. Porter was western treasurer of the Progressive National Committee in 1912, and in 1920 he was assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee.

POLICE CALLED TO QUIET CROWD AT AZAR HOME

Relatives of Herbert Anderson, Confessed Slayer, Advised to Move After Demonstration.

Relatives of Herbert Anderson, confessed slayer of 6-year-old Joe Azar, have been advised by Capt. Kirk of Soudard Street District to move from 1005 Morrison avenue, next door to the Azar home, 1003A Morrison, to prevent possible trouble.

Jack Hyner, a painter, and stepfather of Anderson, has agreed to move as soon as another house can be obtained.

The neighborhood is populated principally by Syrians, all of whom are friends of the Azar family, which is of Syrian origin. Considerable feeling among the Syrians has been aroused over the murder.

A demonstration this morning among friends and relatives of the Azar boy resulted in police being called to the Azar home. There they found Walter Husky, nephew of Anderson, who roomed at 1005 Morrison, surrounded by a number of Syrians.

Husky said he had returned to his rooming house to obtain some clothes and called to George Azar, 13-year-old brother of Joe, to express his sorrow as he entered the front gate. Apparently the youth mistook his action and ran into his home screaming. Soon a large crowd of Syrians gathered. Police quickly cleared the crowd without difficulty.

Husky is to be used as a State witness against Anderson. Capt. Kirk said, and the demonstration against him was unnecessary.

Following the indictment yesterday of Anderson, Circuit Attorney Sidener announced that he would ask the death penalty against him. The Circuit Attorney said he would ask for a speedy trial. The case will be docketed early next week and is expected to be set for trial soon.

The Azar child's funeral was held at 1 p. m. yesterday from an undertaking chapel at 905 Chouteau avenue, to St. Peter and Paul Cemetery.

E. ST. LOUISAN FINED $300 FOR 'BOOTLEGGING' GASOLINE
Sentence of Year in Workhouse for Selling Product Here Is

P. W. Kopman, president of the Perfect Motor Fuel Co. of East St. Louis, pleaded guilty today in Judge Miller's Court of Criminal Correction to a charge of "bootlegging" gasoline from Illinois to Missouri, and was fined $300 on each of three counts, and sentenced to one year in the city workhouse, the latter sentence being said on promise of good behavior.

Last April 17, Robert Hanna, a State Oil Inspector, traced one of Kopman's gasoline trucks from the Free Bridge to a bakery in South St. Louis, where the driver delivered 50 gallons. Kopman's arrest followed and a warrant was issued charging him with not registering as an oil dealer in this state; with failure to pay the two-cent per gallon road tax; and with failure to have his oil inspected.

Alleged Slayer Arraigned.
WINTHROP, Mo., May 27.—Harry A. Kirby, charged with the murder of Miss Aida Hayward, whose body was found last Saturday in a cottage which Kirby had occupied at Lake Maranacook, was held without bail for the September grand jury when arraigned today in Municipal Court.

TROTSKY SAYS U. S. IS MAKING EUROPE A VASSAL

In First Speech Since His Return to Moscow, He Condemns America's Role in World Affairs.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, May 27.—Leon Trotsky, whose appointment as a member of the Collegium of the Supreme Economic Council and chairman of the General Concessions Committee was officially announced today, made his first public speech in Moscow last night since his emergence from the seclusion in the Caucasus.

The former War Minister was present as a spectator at a meeting of the Employees' State Planning Commission, when he was requested to reply to a discourse on the present strength and stabilization of capitalism, which had just been pronounced by Prof. Varga of the Russian Communistic Academy.

His appearance on the platform was the signal for a great wave of applause, the spontaneity and volume of which left no doubt that the deposed leader still retained his old popularity. Choosing his favorite theme, "America's Role in the International Situation," Trotsky said that America was making Europe its vassal and was revivifying Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and other countries to pay America what they owed her.

"America is driving Europe into a tight corner and giving her no outlet," he said. "England has established her pound, but the pound has become a mere weapon in the hands of the American Stock Exchange. At any moment the dollar can crush the pound. America is carrying on a process of colonization in Europe, but this does not mean that capitalism has fortified its position."

"Europe has become bloodless and lies in ruins, while America has further enriched herself."

The speaker declared that the United States was shutting out England from the world market and forcing England to become a mere commission agent of America's own economic and financial policy.

PROPRIETOR OF 'SOFT' DRINK PLACED FINE $200 AS VAGRANT
Penalty Based on Alleged Smell of Liquor in Empty Glass Found in His Place.

Lawrence Kienney, proprietor of a soft-drink business at 4400 St. Louis avenue, was fined $200 by Police Judge Beck yesterday on a vagrancy charge. Kienney was arrested Saturday morning by officers who said they found an empty glass on the bar smelling of liquor.

The court's interpretation that Kienney was vagrant in an unlawful calling, and was therefore a vagrant under the St. Louis ordinance to that effect, followed. Kienney, the bartender, also was arrested, but was discharged.

Hawkins Taken to Indianapolis.
By the Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, May 27.—Unable to furnish $20,000 bond as surety for his appearance in United States District Court at Indianapolis to answer to an indictment charging him with conspiracy to misuse the mails, Morton S. Hawkins, president of the Hawkins Mortgage Co., was taken to the Indiana city last night.

NEGRO WOMAN IS VICTOR IN SUIT FOR $600,000

Jury at Lexington, Ky., Finds Will of John T. Hughes Giving Fortune to Housekeeper Legal.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
LEXINGTON, Ky., May 27.—The jury in the John T. Hughes will case today returned a verdict declaring the document in controversy to be the last will and testament of Hughes.

He left the bulk of his $600,000 estate to Ellen Davis, negro housekeeper, and other servants.

Under the provisions of the will Robert McCreary of Chicago, son of former Gov. James B. McCreary of Kentucky, cousin of Hughes, will receive $10,000, while the Midway Orphan School at Midway Ky., ultimately will get $100,000 from proceeds of estate. The farm and colonial residence on it near here, valued at $250,000 will go to Ellen Davis and her son, Robert Henry Hughes, who is the son of Hughes.

Ellen Davis, who is 84 years old, testified yesterday in rebuttal of charges by contestants of the will that she had influenced Hughes to make her a large beneficiary.

The contestants attempted to prove lack of testamentary capacity and undue influence on the part of Ellen Davis, who, they claim, was "the evil genius that dominated John T. Hughes from boyhood to the grave."

"I did everything he ever told me to do as well as I could," Ellen asserted in court, her attorneys having directed her testimony to bring out that it was Hughes who dominated Ellen.

"No Use to Argue."
"Did you ever attempt to argue with him and make him change his mind about something he had decided to do?" she was asked.

"No, sir," she replied emphatically. "It wasn't any use."

Ellen explained her constant presence in Hughes' room at the hospital, spoken of by witnesses for contestants, by saying that she was acting in accordance with her employer's orders. "At first I would leave the room and stand in the hall while he had company at the hospital," she said.

"But he told me not to do that. He said, 'I'm not paying for the hall; I'm just paying for this room. You stay in here.'"

Her attention was directed by her attorney to the testimony of a witness who had declared that Hughes once told him that Ellen had tried to poison him. She laughed, declaring such an accusation ridiculous. She said she had never heard of such a thing until it was testified to in the trial, and that Hughes had never accused her of trying to poison him.

Ellen said she received no salary during her long service with Hughes, but that she told him when she needed money for anything and he gave it to her.

SECRETARY OF HIGHWAY BOARD IS SUSPENDED

E. S. Austin to Get Hearing June 9 on Approval of Furniture Contract.

(By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.)
JEFFERSON CITY, May 27.—Secretary Edwin S. Austin of the State Highway Commission, who was suspended yesterday afternoon by Chairman Theodore Gary because he approved a contract for purchase of office furniture from James R. Davis, a member of the Commission and a Nevada (Mo.) retail furniture firm for $1213 early in May, and sold himself a desk and chair for his own use at Nevada. Eids had been taken by the department on the five desks and chairs, but purchase of the furniture for Davis' use at Nevada was unauthorized. It was learned. Davis sent the department a bill for $50.25 for the furniture for his own use, on the billhead of his firm.

LABOR LEADER CITED FOR NONPAYMENT OF ALIMONY
W. T. Christopher of Belleville Is Charged With Being Thrice

W. T. Christopher, Belleville labor leader, and former business agent of the Belleville Trades & Labor Assembly, recently paroled from jail where he was serving a 90 day sentence for contempt of court in connection with the violation of a strike injunction, has been cited to appear in the Circuit Court Friday to show reason why he has failed to comply with a court order in paying alimony of $50 per month to his divorced wife, Mrs. Laura Christopher.

It is charged that he is $150 behind in payments. His parole recently was secured on his promise to pay the monthly alimony.

Bulgaria Demobilizes 3000 Men.
By the Associated Press.
SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 27.—The Government has ordered demobilization of the first 3000 men recently enlisted with the permission of the Allies to meet the crisis arising from the country's internal problems. Demobilization of the remaining 10,000 extra troops depends upon the allies' reply to Bulgaria's request for permission to retain them longer. This permission is not expected to be forthcoming.

Girl, 15, Drinks Iodine in Home.
Stella Wagner, 15 years old, of 4404 Forest Park place, was taken to City Hospital at 10:45 p. m. yesterday suffering from iodine poisoning. The girl's mother, Mrs. Josephine Wagner, told police that her daughter drank the poison by mistake. After being treated at the hospital she was returned to her home.

Rolls From U. R. Trouble Wagon and Inflicts Severe Injuries.
George P. Manley, 44 years old, of 7002 Pershing avenue, suffered concussion of the brain, a lacerated scalp and a possible skull fracture at 2 p. m. yesterday when struck by an iron bar, weighing about 25 pounds, at Broadway and Chippewa street.

Manley was talking with the chauffeur of a United Railways trouble wagon when the iron bar fell from the platform of the truck and struck him on the head. He was taken to his home.

DOUBTS STORY OF MAN WHO SAYS HE KILLED DR. DILLON

Perry County Officers Skeptical as to Volunteer Prisoner Giving Name as John J. Carey.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
PERRYVILLE, Mo., May 27.—Authorities here are inclined to regard with skepticism the story of a man who surrendered yesterday morning to Sheriff John J. Endres, declaring that he was the slayer of Dr. William A. Dillon at the Washington University athletic field the night of April 30 last.

The many discrepancies in his story as compared with the physical facts of the shooting, the abstracted air of the voluntary prisoner, his inability to account for his movements since the date of the murder and his tales of self-administration of deadly poisons with innocuous effects, are features of the situation tending to throw a grave doubt on the truth of his story.

He surrendered to the Sheriff at 10:30 a. m. yesterday, gave his name as John J. Carey, his age as 38, and declared he had decided to give himself up as the slayer of the St. Louis physician.

Mrs. William Otto, a half sister of Carey, who lives in Kansas City, today told Sheriff Endres over long distance telephone that Carey had been subject to delusions since childhood. She said he had a full sister, Mrs. Calvin Ticknor, in New York, and added that Mrs. Ticknor has Carey's discharge from the army. Carey was working for the Illinois Central railroad in Chicago when he joined the army, Mrs. Otto said.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The military papers of John J. Carey on file here show he enlisted at Danville, Ill., giving a Chicago address, served in all engagements of the Eighty-ninth Division, and was honorably discharged at Camp Grant in 1919. His army serial number was 2,929,746. There is no record of his having been wounded or gassed, or of his hospitalization.

GOLD STAR-MOTHER MARS FRENCH GREETING

American's Allusion to Politics Causes Awkward Moment
at Doumerge Reception.

By Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.
Copyright 1925 by the Press and Publishing Company, New York World and Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, May 27.—Forty-six gold star mothers were received yesterday by President Doumerge at the Elysee at a reception that began as a solemn and touching ceremony, but ended lamely and awkwardly because Mrs. H. A. Vedder, spokeswoman for the mothers, in her reply to President Doumerge's address, made a political allusion that jarred on the reverential atmosphere.

M. Doumerge greeted the mothers in a moving speech of welcome and even those who didn't know what he was saying were in sympathy. Ambassador Herrick, who had introduced the party and some other Americans interested in the occasion, turned their heads and looked out windows to hide tears.

Mrs. Vedder, who lost two sons in the 27th Division, who were buried at Bony, thanked President Doumerge for the welcome in fitting words, and then continued by saying that 400 of the gold star mothers wished their sons' bodies returned to the United States. She is opposed to this, she said, and is trying to induce mothers to leave their sons in France.

"I also ask you, Mr. President, to intercede and try to induce them to leave their sons where they have fallen on the soil of France," said Mrs. Vedder, who then turned to Ambassador Herrick, with: "If you do this it will be a wonderful thing for the Republican party in the United States."

Herrick lifted his hand as he took in the import of her words and as she finished the sentence he turned to President Doumerge, saying: "I am sorry politics has been interjected into this occasion, which is above all political consideration."

Other gold star mothers, who were still wiping tears from their eyes, looked at one another in awkward silence. Mrs. Vedder hurriedly finished her speech.

HOLDS ORDINANCE ON ADVERTISING IS INVALID

Judge Quashes Charge in Case
Where Woman Didn't State She Was Furniture Dealer.

A charge of advertising furniture for sale without stating in the advertisement that she was a dealer, upon which Mrs. Kate A. Seasholtz of 5127 Cabanne avenue was fined $30 in Police Court, March 20, was quashed by Provisional Judge Gayer in the Court of Criminal Correction recently on the ground that the ordinance providing a penalty for such an act was unconstitutional.

The ordinance, which was the outgrowth of efforts by the Better Business Bureau to prevent the publication of misleading advertising, provided that dealers in furniture and other similar merchandise should not pose as "an individual offering private property for sale and provided a maximum penalty of a $300 fine for violation. The city contended that Mrs. Seasholtz was guilty of such an offense through an advertisement published Jan. 25 last. Following the Police Court hearing, Mrs. Seasholtz appealed.

In sustaining the motion of her attorneys to quash, Judge Gayer held that nobody had been defrauded through the advertisement and that the ordinance itself was invalid. In this, he supported the contention of her attorneys that the ordinance was class legislation and attempted to dictate to newspapers the character of advertising it should run. A motion for a new trial was filed by Jules Field, Associate City Counselor.

MAN DIES IN JAIL FIRE

Prisoner at Panama, Ill., Perishes
When Structure Is Destroyed.

PANAMA, Ill., May 27.—Ed Roach, 45 years old, a coal miner, was burned to death early today when the jail here was destroyed by fire.

Roach was put in jail last night on a charge of intoxication. The jail was a frame structure. At 1 a. m. officers heard a man screaming "fire," and at first paid no attention to his cries. Soon the flames rose and a brigade was formed, but the entire jail was in flames when the men reached it.

New Star Discovered.
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 27.—A cablegram received at the Harvard College Observatory from the Central Bureau of Astronomical Telegrams at Copenhagen announces the discovery by Watson at Cape of Good Hope May 25, of a new star of the second magnitude in the constellation Pictor in the southern hemisphere. The star, known as Nova Pictoris, the observatory announced, may possibly be visible in the extreme southern parts of Florida and Texas.

Police Fight Off New York Mob.
NEW YORK, May 27.—After cornering their quarry in the Pennsylvania railroad yards, a mob attempted to take Wallace Williams, a negro grave digger of Hawthorne, N. Y., from six policemen after he was alleged to have attempted to kidnap a little white girl. It took six policemen with drawn revolvers and sniping clubs to get the negro to a police station.

WITNESS IN SHEPHERD CASE SOUGHT IN EAST

Fugitive Said to Be in New York City and Arrest Is Expected Today.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 27.—While Robert White, fugitive witness upon whose testimony the State largely rests its hope of convicting William D. Shepherd for the murder of William McClintock, was being sought in New York today, the State's Attorney's office proceeded with its inquiry into alleged jury-fixing attempts.

State's Attorney Crowe traced White to New York last night and expected his arrest there today.
James J. Kelly, who was arrested here last night, was named in a letter purported to have been written by White in Philadelphia last week which charged he had been forced to flee from Chicago. Kelly admitted having been with White and Arthur E. Byrne, investigator for Shepherd, the night before White left the city.

"Kelly has told a lot," said Assistant State's Attorney Savage.
"but Mr. Crowe has told me to say nothing."

Crowe's only announcement was that Kelly had made admissions that "implicated" White. The prosecutor explained his reticence by saying the Shepherd defense had accused him of trying to "poison
the public mind against them."

The Chicago Tribune says today that Kelly made this statement to his interrogators:

"I saw White the night before he disappeared. He told me that for $5000 he would make an affidavit changing all the testimony he had given before the grand jury. A lawyer was called to draw up the affidavit and he did draw it up, but it is my understanding White never signed it."

White's testimony to the grand jury was in support of C. C. Fas-man's assertions that he had sold
the typoid germs to Shepherd with the knowledge that they were to be used in killing McClintock.

Yesterday's questioning of veniremen in the Shepherd case and of jurors and wives of jurors in cases argued by W. S. Stewart and W.
W. O'Brien, Shepherd's counsel, brought no evidence of attempts to fix the jury or evidence that jurors
in the past cases had been fixed.

There were only three jurors and one venireman tentatively passed
by both sides when court opened this morning. One juror, Harold Pillar, was dropped yesterday because he had formed an opinion
since being sworn.

PLEDGES BEING SOUGHT FOR 'MIRACLE' GUARANTEE FUND

Active Demand for Seats Already Reported to Have Developed.

The first general move to obtain underwriters for the $100,000 guarantee fund being raised for presentation of "The Miracle" in St.
Louis next winter, began today
with the mailing of letters explaining the project to hundreds of prominent citizens. Accompanying the letters are blanks to be signed, pledging any amount the guarantor wishes to subscribe.

According to Louis M. Hall, chairman of the Guaranty Committee, the demand for seats already developing indicates that financing of the undertaking will be largely handled by advance sales and that little, if any, of the guarantee fund will ever be actually called for.

All seats in the Coliseum, including the 2100 which will sell at $1
each, will be reserved and an active mail order sale is anticipated. Orders for about 60 per cent of the highest priced seats for the opening performance on Christmas Eve already have been received, and another single order for 500 seats
at a performance to be designated later is in the hands of the committee. This order was received from Roy V. Flesch, president of the Optimist Club of St. Louis, in behalf of that organization.

MOTORMAN BURNED TO DEATH, 21 INJURED, IN COLLISION

By the Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 27.—
William F. Edwards, 45 years old,
a motorman, was burned to death
last night in sight of would-be rescuers, another motorman was seriously injured and 20 passengers were hurt when two interurban
cars collided and partly telescoped
each other on a 25-foot high trestle near here.

Immediately following the crash the trolley wire fell on the cars and instantly set fire to them.
The wooden trestle also caught afire. Edwards was caught in the workage.

Passengers, rescued by persons attracted to the scene of the collision, stood by helpless while Edwards, appealing for help, was burned to death. Two hours after the flames had been extinguished, firemen had not succeeded in extracting Edwards' body.

Society to Present Play.
The Holy Name Society and the St. Margaret Mary Sodality of St.
Lawrence O'Toole's Church, will present a mystery play, "The Last Words" at St. Lawrence O'Toole's Hall, 1415 North Fourteenth street, at 8:15 this evening. A dance in the hall will follow the performance.

The Greatest Radio Opportunity of the Season! This Sale of Freed-Eisemann Neutrodyne

Complete With All Equipment for

$15 Cash—Easy Monthly Payments
$5 Additional for Installation

Heretofore Sold for More Than $200

Almost without precedent—both in magnitude and importance—this sale is typical of St. Louis' Dominant Store. Freed-Eisemann is the greatest name in Radio, and the Freed-Eisemann NR5 is by far the most popular Neutrodyne on the market. Heretofore sold regularly for more than $200—and NOW only $99.75!

Outstanding Features Are:

1. No unsightly visible wires.
2. No whistles or squeaks.
3. Simplicity of operation.
4. Extreme selectivity.
5. Built by experts.
6. Each set tested 17 times.
7. Backed by strong, dependable organization.
8. Selected for President's yacht.

Here is overwhelming proof of Freed-Eisemann supremacy: In 1924 the sales of the Freed-Eisemann Company alone were more than half the combined total sales of all the other thirteen manufacturers, licensed to make Neutrodyne sets.

Freed-Eisemann NR6 ($150) and NR20 ($175) Also Features of Our Stock!

SIR WILLIAM BARRETT, SCIENTIST AND SCHOLAR, DIES

LONDON, May 27.—Sir William Barrett, scholar and scientist, died here today at the age of 81.

Sir William founded the Society for Psychological Research, and formerly was its president. He discovered in 1889 certain magnetic and electric properties of the silicon iron alloy, now known as stator, which has been of much value in electrical engineering for the construction of transformers and dynamos. His writings covered a wide field of philosophy, science and psychological researches.

BELLEVEUE BOY SCOUTS TO MARK GRAVES OF MEMBERS

They Also Will Participate in the Memorial Day Parade There Saturday.

Belleveue Boy Scouts will observe Memorial day by placing markers on the graves of three members who passed away within the past few years. All Boy Scouts of the city will participate in the Memorial day parade.

The graves of the deceased members which are to be marked are Bernhard H. Reis, Leslie Lumbard and Branstetter Yackel. Following this ceremony the scouts will decorate the graves of all departed soldiers with flowers and wreaths. The Rev. Henry Selzer, scout executive, will have charge of the scout troops.

THREE LEADERS IN BULGARIAN BOMB OUTRAGE HANGED

Trio Includes Custodian of Cathedral Where 160 Were Killed—Three Others to Die.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 27.—Three of the leaders in the recent bombing of the St. Kral Cathedral in which 160 persons were killed, were hanged here today. One of the men executed was Zadorov, custodian of the cathedral.

Three more persons have been sentenced to death for their connection with the plot. All were convicted of sheltering the conspirators. They are: M. Perchemoff, M. Leger and Mue. Nicolova. Mme. Leger was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The executions today took place in a public square in the presence of thousands of persons. Troops formed lines about the execution place, which was just behind a Jewish cemetery.

Half an hour before the men were hanged their sentences of death were formally read.

The death sentences of Zadorov, Mue. Nicolova and M. Perchemoff, the men executed today, were the first death penalties King Boris has ever approved. Other death sentences have been imposed in the past by Bulgarian courts, but the King always has declined to sanction them.

LEOPOLD RECOVERING FROM OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS

Richard Loeb, His Partner in Franks Murder, Ill With Measles and Confined to Cell.

By the Associated Press. ST. LOUIS, May 27.—Nathan F. Leopold, serving a life sentence in the State penitentiary here for the kidnapping and slaying of Bobby Franks last year, is recovering after an operation for appendicitis performed yesterday at the prison hospital by Prison Doctor W. R. Fletcher and State Physician F. W. McKelvey.

"We found the appendix in a highly dangerous condition," Dr. Fletcher said after the operation, "but Leopold withstood the operation well and should recover quickly."

Richard Loeb, partner of Leopold in the Chicago crime, who also is serving a life sentence here, is ill with measles in the old penitentiary at Joliet. He is confined to a cell.

SILENCE FOR AUTO VICTIMS HEREAFTER IN POLICE COURT

Police Judge Rosecan said yesterday that his court in the future will observe by a minute's silence each automobile death, as he observed them at the opening of court Monday morning, when the entire assemblage stood in silence for two minutes for two persons who had died in automobile accidents the day before.

"It was a very impressive ceremony," the Judge said. "There were many traffic violators in court at the time, and I think the solemnity of the proceedings made each one realize just how serious traffic violations might be. Each automobile fatality from now on will be observed by my court in this manner."

3 NIGHTS' 'VISIT TO INDIA'

Educational Program at St. Peter's Evangelical Church.

"A Visit to India," an educational program designed to portray life in India, was given last night at St. Peter's Evangelical Church, St. Louis and Warne avenues, by the senior department of the young people of the church. The program will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night, beginning each night at 7:30 o'clock.

The Rev. W. K. Nottrott, his wife, and four other missionaries are directing the program. The basement of the church contains several booths, each portraying some phase of life in India. A motion picture of India and a meal consisting of many Indian dishes are other features of the program.

One of the modern two-family residences being erected in Davis Place by J. W. Leach, architect. Designed to look like a single dwelling.

in Davis Place
in 30 Days

€ $70.00 a foot for two-family dwellings means $35.00 a foot per family—no value like it anywhere in St. Louis.

€ A 30 days' record—eleven two-family dwellings under construction—three big grading outfits at work—street lights on Hanley, Clayton, North and South Roads and Wydown Bl. to be lighted this week.

€ More than 50,000 people have visited the property—the news is spreading—the crowds are increasing.

€ This location means more money will be made in Davis Place in a shorter time than in any district ever laid out in St. Louis—it means profits of at least $2000 a lot—IF YOU BUY NOW!

STATE TO DETERMINE DAMAGE BY FROST

700 Inquiries Mailed Out to Get Accurate Estimate of Missouri Crop Loss.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 27.—
In an effort to get definite estimates on the amount of crop damage caused by the general frosts in Missouri last Sunday night, the State Board of Agriculture, in conjunction with the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics at Columbia, today is preparing to send out 7000 inquiries by mail.

Reports on the damage have been coming in slowly and neither State
nor Federal agricultural experts would hazard estimates on the loss from the frosts, which accompanied the coldest snap on record in Missouri for 35 years, for the latter part of May.

An indication of the loss on the potato crop was given by F. S. Offutt of Orrick, president of the Western Potato Growers' Association, who said the damage to the potato crop in that section amounted to 25 per cent. Approximately 4000 acres are planted in potatoes
in that district in Ray, Jackson and Clay County. Based on recent crop reports and potato prices, the damage there would be approximately $200,000 it was said.

Scattered reports from Southeast Missouri show considerable damage to cotton.

State Director George Reeder of
the United States Weather Bureau
at Columbia said the frost was not a killing one throughout the State.

"The frost was damaging, but not of a killing nature as a whole," Reeder said. "The frost was more destructive to vegetation such as truck crops, alfalfa and clover, but in this respect the damage is spotted. The bulk of the corn crop is planted and most of it up, yet
not all of the early corn was damaged. The damage to the wheat in bloom is problematical."

Reeder said most of the wheat
was in bloom, its sensitive stage,
and that several days would be required to determine the damage.
"The tree fruits, especially the hill orchards, apparently were not damaged much," he added.

The average low temperatures in the state, outside the cities, was about 33 degrees last Sunday night, Reeder said. The range was from 30 degrees above zero to 26. The temperatures of 33 degrees were reported from Unionville, Kidder, Mexico and Lebanon, with 31 at Chillicothe and Mountain Grove.

Frost Is Estimated to Have Ruined
Tenth of County Wheat Crop.

Ten to 15 per cent of St. Louis County's wheat crop was destroyed by the frost and cold of last Sunday night, County Agricultural Agent Hansen estimated today. The average yield of county wheat fields is 500,000 bushels. Previously Agent Hansen had thought that not more than 3 per cent of the crop was damaged, but later reports caused him to revise the estimate.

"This is just an estimate from indications," he said. "The only way to tell for sure would be a field-to-field canvass. The effect was severe because the 'milk' was just rising through the wheat stems and the heads were beginning to blossom; this is a tender stage."

Another Loss of $700,000.

The farm agent declared that the crops of tomatoes, potatoes, strawberries and cherries in the county are almost a total loss. He reiterated his estimate that this means a loss of about $700,000. The product of county truck and fruit farms usually is worth about $5,000,000
a year.

In St. Charles County, County Agricultural Agent Langenbacher
said, about 50 per cent of the corn planted in a total of about 70,000 acres was frozen. Temperatures
there having fallen below 32 degrees Sunday night. He estimated the loss in this crop at $300,000.

"A good deal of the corn that was up six inches or so," he said,
"froze down to the ground. Some farmers think it will come up from the roots all right."

Says Fruit Not Hurt.

"I wouldn't dare make an estimate as to the loss on wheat. You can't tell. If it is frozen in the bloom it may be killed; if frozen,
but not in the bloom, there may be a light crop, or maybe it isn't hurt
at all. There are about 97,000 acres in wheat in this county this year, but the average acreage is about 90,000; the average yield is 16 bushels to the acre.

"In the gardens it will be necessary to replant a great deal. I wouldn't be surprised if 50 per cent of the garden stuff had to be replanted. It is hard to tell the money loss. All truck crops are affected, but there is not so much of this raised in St. Charles County.
I don't think the frost hurt the fruit at all."

BORGLUM WANTS JOB BACK
Stone Mountain Sculptor Still Seeks Reinstatement.

By the Associated Press.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 27.—
Although the Stone Mountain Memorial Association has chosen a successor to G. S. Borglum, sculptor, he is striving for reinstatement.
Judge Arthur F. Ellis, in Superior Court, was informed yesterday by Borglum's counsel.

Borglum's counsel obtained delay of the trial of an $3500 damage
action by the James McCreary Realty Corporation of New York City to collect rent owed by the International Sporting Club which Borglum is alleged to have guaranteed.

YALE CHEMIST ENDS LIFE WITH POISON IN LABORATORY

Act Comes as Climax to Months of Experimenting on Structure of Atom.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 27.—For the ten-thousandth time Eustace Cuy, 27 years old, peered through the microscope as he bent over his work bench in the corner of the Sterling Chemistry Laboratory last evening, to which he came last fall as a research worker attached to the Yale University faculty.

Day after day, night after night, from early morning until close to midnight, the shabby young man worked, while others in the laboratory gave him scant attention. Only to a handful was it known that he had been described by chemistry professors as a brilliant mind, certain to distinguish himself.

Last night was no different than any other, except to Eustace Cuy. He had been experimenting for months in the structure of the atom. Sometimes his work had seemed to progress, sometimes to fall back. Last night his experiments had gone as far as he knew he could go. If he had not succeeded his months of work were wasted.

After gulping his lunch he had come to the laboratory from his boarding house, where he had lived without even his landlady's being certain of his name. He bent over his microscope. A faint sound came from his lips. He walked to a sink, took a vial from his pocket and half emptied it into a glass of water. He drank and fell dead. It was poison.

Fifteen letters were found, one addressed to a sister in Pittsburgh. Yale University officials declined to discuss the case. Coroner Mix investigated. "Suicide," was all he would say.

Illinois U. Bill Unchanged.
By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 27.—
The House yesterday rejected amendments to the University of Illinois appropriation bill which would have cut out $1,425,000 for new buildings, and sent the measure to third reading in the same form that it passed the Senate.
Friends of the university won a victory by a vote of 122 to 24 despite the opposition of Chairman Curran of the Appropriation Committee and other House leaders.

EFFORT TO STOP EVASION OF PROPERTY TAX ON AUTOS
City Assessor Gehner Finds More Than Half of Owners Escaped Levy This Year.
Efforts to prevent licensed automobile owners from evading payment next year of personal property tax on their vehicles will be taken by City Assessor Gehner as a result of the discovery that more than half escaped taxation this year.
A total of 110,000 city automobile licenses were issued last year, but tax returns were made on only 48, 701 of the cars for which licenses were issued. The owners of the other 61,299 evaded the tax by not making a return. These figures were obtained in a comparison of the license and tax records.
Last year's tax is payable this year at the rate of $2.46 on the $100 valuation. This year's tax is payable next year at the rate of $2.57.
Gehner estimates the taxable
value of 61,299 cars at $20,000,000, which means the tax evasion this year resulted in a loss of $492,900
in revenue that would have gone to the State and city governments and the public schools. Hereafter, Geh-ner says, automobile owners must make returns or the Assessor will do it for them with a possibility of the return being higher than if made by the owner.

ALTON SCHOOLS PREPARE FOR GRADUATION EXERCISES
Ursuline Academy Commencement
on June 4. Will Be First on List.

Alton schools are preparing for commencement, with the Ursuline Academy first on the list. Ursuline Academy will graduate a class of 13 on June 4. On June 11 the Western Military Academy and Shurtleff College will graduate large classes and on June 2 Marytelle Seminary at Godfrey will hold commencement exercises. The Alton High will graduate a class
on June 12 and the Old Cathedral High graduation exercises will be held on June 9.

The Rev. Henry Alfred Porter of St. Louis will deliver the commencement address at Shurtleff College. Shurtleff will have the largest class in its history, graduating 35 students. The Rev. Dr.
Timmons of St. Louis will deliver a baccalaureate address before the
W. M. A. cadets at the Upper Alton
Baptist Church on June 7.

DEFENDS FEDERAL RESERVE
Head of New York Exchange Says
System Bulwarks Market.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 27.—Four hundred New York State bankers, guests of the New York Stock Exchange today, heard a spirited defense of the Federal Reserve system from E. H. Simmons, president of the exchange.

One of the greatest problems of American banking has been the establishment of a central institution to serve as a bulwark to the money market in time of stress by centralizing banking reserves and enabling their flexible control in the common interests, he said. The Federal Reserve System, he said,
has fulfilled this order directing fully and also had completed with brilliant efficiency many indispensable financial tasks never contemplated originally by framers of the reserve act. With the reserve banks facing the necessity of being rechartered in a few years he urged the bankers to rally to the support of the system in its basic policies and its fundamental powers and methods.

MILEAGE BOOK CASE SETTLED
Railroads Ordered to Continue Sale of Interchangeable Scrip.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 27.—The long-fought mileage book case was finally disposed of by the Interstate Commerce Commission today
in the issue of order directing railroads to continue their present
practice of selling interchangeable scrip coupons at the regular passenger rates.

An earlier decision ordered most of the class one roads to join in a plan for interchangeable mileage
books at a reduction of 20 per cent
under the regular passenger fare rates, but this was overthrown in the court.

ORGANIST'S WIFE ENTERS U. S.
Max Hindimayr to Be Joined by Family at Alton.
Max Hindimayr, organist at St.
Mary's Church at Alton, has received word that his wife will arrive in New York from Germany
today and come at once to Alton.
She will be accompanied by her son. Hindimayr came to this country and expected to be joined shortly by his wife, but until now
no place in the quota under the immigration law could be found by Mrs. Hindimayr.

CANDY CLUB ORGANIZED
Manufacturers, Retailers and Jobbers Attend Meeting.
The Candy Club of St. Louis was organized last night at a dinner
held at the American Hotel,
at which retailers, jobbers and manufacturers of confections were present. The meeting was opened by the St. Louis Jobbing Confectioners' Association, and plans were laid to establish the second Saturday of each October as
"the sweetest day."

Officers of the new organization
were elected.

UNCHANGED TOWARD RUSSIA
Britain Has No Intention of Resuming Parity, Says Chamberlain.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, May 27.—Foreign Minister Chamberlain, answering questions today in the House of Commons, declared the British Government had no intention of resuming negotiations with Soviet Russia. Chamberlain said:
"I should, of course, consider any proposals made to me, but I have no intention of initiating them."

ITALY INITIATES
DEBT DISCUSSION WITH AMERICA

Ambassador De Martino in Hour and a Half Talk With Secretary Mellon Regarding Obligation.

ROME'S MOVE APART
FROM FRENCH POLICY

Moratorium and Subject of Amortization Rate
Broached During Conference at Treasury.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 27.—The question of Italy's debt to the United States was brought to the forefront by a visit to the Treasury yesterday of Baron de Martino, the Italian Ambassador, who talked over the whole subject of the Italian obligation of $2,135,543,996.
While the conference was devoid of concrete results, it marked the first step by Italy with respect to her debt and initiated conversations which Treasury officials hope will speed into actual negotiations of amortization terms. The Ambassador conferred an hour and a half with Secretary Mellon and Under-Secretary Winston, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the American Debt Commission.

Italy's Problems Discussed.
Baron de Martino's mission was understood to have been largely for the purpose of ascertaining Mel-lon's views and there was a frank discussion of the problems faced by Italy and the law which defines for the American administration the terms which it can accept from its foreign debtors. The Ambassador was said to have eliminated at the onset any thought that may have prevailed in the minds of officials that Italy's moves hinged on action by France.

Assurances given by De Martino
that Italian moves on the funding of the debt were in no way considered to be related to the French debt question produced a great deal of satisfaction at the Treasury. Reports from European capitals to the effect that several debtors of the American Government would take no action until the French policy was decided had aroused concern here. Elimination of Italy from the category of these nations, therefore, marked an important step.

The question of a moratorium or period of delay being included in the final settlement was broached
by the Italian envoy, as well as the subject of an amortization rate
for reducing the principal amount of these indirect inquiries the American policy of being as lenient
as conditions permitted was reiterated. Baron de Martino was given assurance that the responsible officials here desire to be helping out an agreement on the basis of Italy's capacity to pay.

Move to Expedite Settlement.
Treasury officials regarded the Ambassador's visit as of utmost importance. They were inclined to look upon it as a move by Italy
in response to the known attitude of the administration that debt settlements should not be further delayed. It was explained, however, that the firm policy which is to apply hereafter with respect to foreign debts must be regarded as applying to the hastening of negotiations rather than to the terms included in settlements.

BRIAND DEFENDS U. S.
WAR DEBT POLICY

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, May 27.—The policy of the United States respecting war debts and the attitude of the United States Senate toward the guarantee pact signed by President Wilson
in 1919 received a stout defense in the French Senate yesterday.
An attack by Senator Georges Bonnet
on certain American politicians,
who he said, threatened France
without the security promised by President Wilson, drew from Briand, the Foreign Minister, the statement that there was no ground for questioning the propriety of the United States Senate's stand on the guarantee treaty. He recalled that France engaged in the peace negotiations were made well aware that the Senate could not be expected to ratify such a document.
Briand again intervened in the debate to approve the remarks

Ambassador De Martino in Hour and a Half Talk With Secretary Mellon Regarding Obligation.

ROME'S MOVE APART FROM FRENCH POLICY

Moratorium and Subject of Amortization Rate Broached During Conference at Treasury.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The question of Italy's debt to the United States was brought to the forefront by a visit to the Treasury yesterday of Baron de Martino, the Italian Ambassador, who talked over the whole subject of the Italian obligation of $2,135,542,000.

While the conference was devoid of concrete results, it marked the first step by Italy with respect to her debt and initiated conversations which Treasury officials hope will proceed into actual negotiations of funding terms. The Ambassador conferred an hour and a half with Secretary Mellon and Under-Secretary Winston, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the American Debt Commission.

Italy's Problems Discussed. Baron de Martino's mission was understood to have been largely for the purposes of ascertaining Mellon's views and there was a frank discussion of the problems faced by Italy and the law which defines for the American administration the terms which it can accept from its foreign debtors. The Ambassador was said to have eliminated at the outset any thought that may have been in the minds of officials that Italy's moves hinged on action by France.

Assurances given by De Martino that Italian moves on the funding of the debt were in no way considered to be related to the French debt question produced a great deal of satisfaction at the Treasury. Reports from European capitals that the French government had agreed to ease Treasury views and added to the hope entertained that Italy would take appropriate steps for funding her obligation.

The question of a moratorium or period of delay being included in the final settlement was broached by the Italian envoy, as well as the subject of an amortization rate for reducing the principal amount in annual installments, and to both of these indirect inquiries the American policy of being as lenient as conditions permitted was reiterated. Baron de Martino was given assurance that the responsible officials here desire to be helpful and want to aid him in working out an agreement on the basis of Italy's capacity to pay.

Move to Expedite Settlement. Treasury officials regarded the Ambassador's visit as of utmost importance. They were inclined to look upon it as a move by Italy, in response to the known attitude of the administration that debt settlements should not be further delayed. It was explained, however, that the first policy which is to apply hereafter with respect to foreign debts must be regarded as applying to the hastening of negotiations rather than to the terms included in settlements.

There were indications that Secretaries Kellogg, Mellon and Hoover, who are all members of the Debt Commission, had talked over the subject of the Italian debt at their conference Monday. None of the three would discuss the meeting after it had adjourned, further than to say that it involved a question of debt policy.

BRIAND DEFENDS U. S. WAR DEBT POLICY

PARIS, May 27.—The policy of the United States respecting war debts and the attitude of the United States Senate toward the guarantee pact signed by President Wilson in 1919 received a stout defense in the French Senate yesterday.

An attack by Senator Gourju on certain American politicians, who, he said, threatened France with their cannon while they left her without the security promised by President Wilson, drew from Briand, the Foreign Minister, the statement that there was no ground for questioning the propriety of the United States Senate's stand on the guarantee treaty. He recalled that those engaged in the peace negotiations were made well aware that the Senate could not be expected to ratify such a document.

Briand again intervened in the debate to approve the remarks of

Moratorium and Subject of Amortization Rate Broached During Conference at Treasury.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The Italian government's move to discuss the debt of the United States with the Treasury department, instead of the French government, was a significant step, according to the Italian Ambassador, who talked over the whole subject of the Italian obligation of $2,138,542,000.

CHANCES ARE TWO-TO-ONE THAT AMUNDSEN IS ALIVE,
SAYS COMMANDER BYRD

Officer Who Will Be in Charge of Navy's Arctic Planes Speculates on Whereabouts of Norwegian Explorer.

By COMMANDER RICHARD E. BYRD, U. S. N.
(Copyright, 1925.)
Written Exclusively for the Post-Dispatch.

(Commander Richard E. Byrd of the United States Navy will be in charge of the planes of the Navy's Arctic expedition this summer.)
WASHINGTON, May 27.—I would not be at all surprised to find Amundsen and his party in Grant Land, hale and hearty, living on musk ox, when MacMillan and I fly over Grant Land this summer to establish a base on the Polar Sea at Cape Columbia.

But what has happened to Amundsen? Certain things could not have happened. Indeed, there is so much misconception about what the Norwegian explorer might have done that it may be desirable to correct some of the unscientific statements that have been published. Amundsen, for instance, may have tried for Alaska, but I don't believe it. To do so would have been an unthinkably risk of the lives of his shipmates. He is courageous, but not foolishly reckless. In the first place, the nearest point to Alaska is approximately 1500 miles from King's Bay, Spitzbergen, from which point Amundsen hopped off.

The cruising radius of his planes, loaded as they were, was only 1500 miles and an adverse wind could cut this down by 200 or 300 miles. To come down 200 miles from Alaska would be very dangerous as the ice is jammed up in such an irregular mass as to make safe landing practically impossible.

One Possible Way. There is one possible way for Amundsen to have reached Alaska. He could have abandoned one plane at the North Pole and taken all the gasoline from it for his other plane. He could have taken all his personnel aboard the one plane. There would then be sufficient fuel for about 1500 miles cruising radius with only 1200 miles to go from the Pole to Point Barrow, Alaska. Personally I doubt very much that this would be attempted.

Then what are the things that logically could have happened? We must base our assumptions on what Amundsen was likely to do. 1. Amundsen could have lost his course due to the unknown and rapidly changing variations of the compass around the North Pole. 2. One of the planes might have had a forced landing because of motor stoppage, and, landing on the ice, cracked up the boat in such a way that the plane was unable to rise. This was just what happened to us with the NC-1 and NC-3 in the trans-Atlantic flight. It was fortunate that the NC-4 did not land upon the ocean and was the first plane to cross the Atlantic. Then the second Amundsen plane, landing upon the ice or in an open crack and water, ran astray, and was hunk of ice and also cracked up so that she could not rise.

3. Amundsen might have landed in what he thought was the vicinity of the Pole to verify his position, but, as the sun was at sea to fix a ship's position, and in landing might have cracked up his machines so that they could not rise.

Might Have Found Land. 4. Amundsen might have discovered new land and placed his machines in an open bay for the purpose of exploring and also to "locate" the latitude and longitude of the polar island. Should this be the case he probably is still there exploring virgin land. He would take his time in this case and return after his successful adventure with a great tale to tell.

5. Amundsen might have run into a polar snowstorm that forced a landing and smashed his machines. Or for might have separated the planes and taken them away off their course. At any rate the chances are 10 to 1 that these intrepid adventurers are somewhere down on the polar ice within 400 miles of the Pole—and they are probably struggling up to the limit of human endurance to reach land before their month's supply of food gives out, pulling their sledges of supplies over the ice and taking to their canvas boat.

Gen. Taublieb, of Alsace, who said France must follow the example of Great Britain and fund its debts to the United States without delay, and he added:

Urges French Propaganda. "Serious negotiations to that end have already begun." Gen. Taublieb regretted the weakness of France in the matter of propaganda in America. It was extremely regrettable, he asserted, saying how the propaganda made it appear that France wanted to dodge her obligations. The General added that the problem of disarmament could not be taken up with the United States under conditions favorable to when they reach the open leads of water. If they are down near the Pole the nearest point of land would be either Cape Columbia, Grant Land or Cape Morris Jessup. Hazen Land, the two northernmost point of land in the north—about 400 miles from the pole.

Supplied With Arms. The explorers are supplied with rifles and ammunition and could live on musk ox and seals when they reach land. There would be no chance to procure food over the Polar Sea, so they must come the distance to land before their supply of chocolate, dried meat and coffee gives out. Amundsen would probably set out for Grant Land, as there are several caches of food left there by explorers. A correction of a few degrees must be applied to the compass needle to make it point true north. A curious thing about these magnetic lines of force is that local conditions affect them to some extent and therefore the variation cannot mathematically be figured out with exactness, but must be found by actual trial with precise instruments. This local affection of the needle might be as much as 10 degrees. Therefore the variation used by Amundsen might have been in error and, could have caused him to miss the North Pole unless he could take accurate observation of the sun from the plane while in flight. This is doubtful.

Mathematical calculation shows that Amundsen should have used a variation of between 10 and 20 degrees. If his compass needle was pulled by that number of degrees to the left of the true north course, he then had to steer by a compass needle pointing to 15 degrees instead of zero—which is north.

Might Have Missed Pole. This pulling around of the magnetic needle near the pole means a variation of 50 degrees or other words, there is a certain point south of the North Pole where the compass needle, instead of pointing north, will point south. Due to the local affection of the variation, Amundsen could easily have missed the pole by 100 miles through no fault in his navigation. If he had missed it to the southward, for example, by that distance, his variation would be approximately 15 degrees when he finished his 650 miles from Spitzbergen.

To get to the pole, then, instead of steering zero or north, he would have to steer 120 degrees by compass. If it happened to be cloudy he could not get his position by the sun and he would be lost. Suppose, then, he would make for Spitzbergen from this false position. He might miss the island altogether, or, if he missed it, he would have his gasoline giving out. It is possible he is now floating around in the North Atlantic Ocean. If his error had been to the northward he might have made some island in the Franz Joseph archipelago several hundred miles east of Spitzbergen and near Russia, without enough gasoline to get back to his base.

If anyone in the party has been injured his companions, of course, will stick to him, but their loyalty will cut down their speed of travel. The explorers will occasionally come to open leads of water from a few feet to hundreds of yards across. These leads open up constantly from the movement of the ice, but within a few hours freeze over. When the lead is wide, Amundsen will probably wait for it to freeze over, rather than trust his party to a flimsy canvas boat.

Amundsen has no radio on his planes. If he had come down within easy rescue distance of Spitzbergen he would have reached there by this time and would have a hundred miles away. The chances are two to one that Amundsen is alive.

France, unless the debt question was first disposed of. The debate, which was on the foreign affairs budget of 1925, covered the whole range of foreign affairs. Briand, replying to some of the speakers, declined to be explicit on the subjects of security, evacuation of Alsace and Lorraine, and because these questions would be taken up in diplomatic negotiations in the course of time. Briand Answers Stresemann. Dr. Stresemann, the German Foreign Minister, Briand said, was talking for German public opinion when he said that the Allies, by remaining in Cologne, had failed to respect their signature, and that the violations of the Versailles

By the Associated Press. MANILA, May 27.—Governor-General Leonard Wood today received a dispatch from Governor Johnson, Governor of Lanao Province, announcing the successful assault of the fortress from which Sultan Raya and other Moros have been defying the authorities for some months.

After a preliminary shelling with field guns and mortars, the fortress was stormed by the Constabulary. Seven Moros are known to have been killed. Some escaped. The Constabulary suffered no casualties.

The fortress was destroyed. Two naval hydroplanes made a useful demonstration without actually bombing the fortress.

The Moros gathered in the fortress early in April, announcing their intention to seek vengeance for the killing, a year ago, by the Constabulary of a number of their relatives during an uprising. Peaceful negotiations were adopted by the Constabulary officers to induce the Moros to leave their fortress, but they declined to listen to any overtures.

The Governor-General made a special trip to Lanao in an effort to induce the men to surrender, but they refused and the attack by the Constabulary was, therefore, decided upon.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 27.—The motion picture section of the Department of Agriculture has sought in vain among the 5000 employees of the department in Washington for a man who knows how to act the part of an ordinary farmer in educational films.

Several candidates were tried out, but their antics ruined the pictures. Then officials went back to the farm and hired a regular farmer right at the plow. But when he got before the camera he was overcome by stage fright. Finally the director engaged a professional actor, who has never worked a day on the farm, and he played the part perfectly.

ON THE FRENCH FRONT IN MOROCCO, May 25, via Paris, May 27.—What may be the invading Riffian mountaineers look down with greedy eyes into the Ouergha Valley. Here is no desert, but a garden. For miles and miles on every side, long rolling slopes of the foothills are green with ripening grain. In every dell, every pasture, by every path, are flowers in such profusion as to carpet the earth—scarlet poppies, blue morning glories, purple flowering shrubs, whole fields of yellow daisies or warm pink gladioli.

Through the lush lowland, its waters yellowed with silt, runs the River Ouergha. Above it, high among the hills, on rocky crests or stately spurs of granite, poplars tower aloft among the olive grove and the almond and fig trees. The roofs are of thatch and on every roof is a stock's nest, for the stock is a sacred bird.

Small Blockhouses. Over to the north is a massive elevation on three of whose summits, five or six miles away, small white blockhouses may be perceived. These blockhouses are under siege. They are completely surrounded by the Riffian warriors who lie concealed behind rocks or in the wheat. Each blockhouse is being defended by a French officer or two, with 15 or 20 devoted Senegalese riflemen.

They have food and water and ammunition, but not last for long. They do not know at what hour of the day the bullet of some creeping Riffian may whistle to its mark, or at what hour of the night the silence may be broken by cries of alarm. They are not sure that they have been ordered to hold out; that if they are captured they will die a death of torture or horrible mutilation; that whatever happens, they will never be wholly pardoned by their brothers-in-arms, whose camp they can see far across the river.

From below the blockhouses in the olive groves, in the fields of grain, in the shrubbery of crooked cypresses more than 1000 Riffian warriors lie hidden in the slight dips waiting for the French to advance to the relief of the blockhouses. Now and then the crash of a cannon is heard. The Riffians make no move, give no sign. They watch and wait in silence.

Engineers at Work. South of the Ouergha, on the French side of the river, the scene is more animated. For the Riffians are not on foot, but on horseback, and out of rifle shot the French are not obliged to conceal themselves. A gang of natives in a field not far from the river are busy with shovels, leveling the way for the narrow gauge railroad which is being pushed up from the interior of the French zone.

French engineers already have built a bridge for it and near the bridgehead a company of the French Foreign Legion has pitched its tents within a circle of barbed wire and earthworks. The French flag flutters above the tents. Rough looking men, some of whom talk German among themselves, lounge about.

Down by the river, in the tall grass a squad of tan-jacketed legionnaires lie hidden on guard. Their fingers are on the triggers of their rifles. Their hard blue eyes keep scanning out through the tall flowers to catch the slightest untoward movement of grass on the farther side which might betray the creeping approach of Riffian scouts. There are similar squads along the south bank of the river.

Again a cannon crashes. A slight sigh away out of hearing. An observer has signaled a movement of Riffians to the battery which is being pushed up from the interior of the French zone. The pack mules are tethered and the supply sheds stand, and turbaned Tunisian cavalrymen sit together in the shade. Before the Tunisian deserters out across the lush, luxuriant valley, an airplane dips and wheels and drops two great bombs, then rushes out of sight. Behind the Tunisian cavalrymen, behind the sheds, four

The Political Undertow
Thumbs Down on Dawes' Plan to Reform Senate

Coolidge Doesn't Like Idea of Vice President Charging Around Country Stirring Up Party Strife Just When He Wants Business to Forget Washington.

By CHARLES MICHILSON. Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—It's thumbs down for Vice President Dawes' plan to reform the United States Senate. President Coolidge never did care for it; particularly, he did not like the idea of the Vice President charging around the country stirring up trouble for the men on whose success depends the retention of Republican control of the Senate at the very time when the President is suggesting a soft pedal on discussion of things governmental. The President's thought is that business is entitled to a rest; that men should cease troubling about Washington and devote themselves to their own affairs and so make the most of the vacation from congressional agitation afforded by the long recess.

This plan is being interfered with by the presence of Dawes at celebrations, banquets and Chamber of Commerce meetings, harping on the outrage of a single Senator being able to balk the will of the majority and, inferentially at least, the policies of the President by the filibuster method. Didn't Stand Erect. It was something of a surprise when Senator William M. Butler stood up at a Boston meeting and was counted among those agreeing with Dawes that the Senate was in need of reform. Here was a Senator from Mr. Coolidge's own State—moreover the recognized spokesman of the President in the upper House of Congress—apparently endorsing the crusade on which the General depends to keep him in the public eye until the next Republican national convention chooses a candidate for the Presidency.

Now it appears that Butler is no crusader for the new Dawes plan. The other Republican Senators who took Butler's Boston attitude as notice that the President was behind the Dawes crusade have now shied off for Butler has it been known that he sees no reason for enthusiasm over Dawes' hobby. As he himself put it, he "does not think the Dawes proposal will be of very much importance in the campaign." What he had reference to was the Vice President's declaration that he was going to campaign in the States where Senator were up for re-election and present to their constituents the necessity of their seeing to it that only men who could be depended on to revise the rules should be returned to the Senate. There are 25 Republican Senators up for re-election next year. At least half of them face the danger of defeat. The other seven Senators who will be voted for—the Democrats—are Broussard, Caraway, Fletcher, George, Gurnea, Ellison, Smith and Underwood, and nobody has yet suggested that the Republicans are going to carry Louisiana, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina or Alabama.

Trouble Aplenty. The Republican Senators have enough trouble in Arizona, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Hampshire, Nevada, Missouri and Maryland, to say nothing of New York and Indiana, without having the Vice President declaring to the voters of those States that their Senators are conniving at embarrassing the President and staying the course of Republican measures.

Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen, while traveling in a motorboat on the West River, were seized by bandits, but Mrs. Rasmussen was quickly released and allowed to return to Kongmoon.

$750,000,000 LOSS TO DEALER

U. S. Wholesalers Pay Big Cost for Laxity in Giving Credit.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 27.—Laxity in extending credits cost wholesale merchants in the United States approximately $750,000,000 in bad accounts last year, J. H. Tregoe, treasurer of the National Association of Credit Men, declared in an address yesterday before the annual convention of the Wholesale Grocers' Association.

Tregoe told the convention that the "growing tendency to buy luxuries on the installment plan is compelling people to pay but this year's income for last year's pleasures."

The suspicion grows that the naval maneuvers have been completely observed by foreign agents. Every sea operation off Pearl Harbor and even in the rough La Haina waters runs across apparently innocent sampans. Occupants of some of these have been carefully questioned, but no evidence for proceedings has been obtained.

The suspicion is common talk in officers' messes, and all hands feel operations cannot be secret under present conditions. Rear Admiral Cole, chief of staff of the United States fleet, is personally investigating suspected sources of information from the sea forces.

PRESBYTERIANS
REAFFIRM STAND
ON VIRGIN BIRTH

General Assembly Votes That Ministers of Faith Must Declare Their Belief in It.

ISSUE, HOWEVER, IS NOT SETTLED FINALLY

Resolution Adopted Provides for Committee to Study Question and Report Next Year.

By the Associated Press. COLUMBUS, O., May 27.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America will end today with the election of members of the permanent judicial commission and the general council as the most important votes before it.

By vote the assembly has reaffirmed the stand that ministers of the Presbyterian faith must affirm belief in the virgin birth, and it remanded to the New York presbytery the cases of two young ministers who did not so believe.

The entire issue, however, will not be finally settled for another year, under a resolution adopted yesterday. Provision for a committee of 15 members to study the question and report to the 1926 assembly was made. Dr. Charles Redman, moderator of the present assembly, who offered the proposal, said he probably would name members of the commission in two weeks. The direct stand on belief in the virgin birth came in the complaint of Rev. Albert D. Gants of New York against the synod of New York, regarding the licensing of Henry P. Van Dusen and Cedric O. Laymen by the Eastern presbytery.

Speaks Liberal View. The permanent judicial commission of the assembly, which tried all the cases, and whose reports were accepted in all instances, held that the New York presbytery erred in licensing the two and reversed the finding of the synod which upheld the former body.

Dr. Henry Sloane Gordon, New York liberal, in a statement outlining his position of his element, declared that the church's constitution does not specify such a requirement. He said it was an "attempt by judicial decision to alter the requirements for entrance into the ministry."

"Both the scriptures and the Westminster confession explicitly mention many things not regarded as essential to faith," Dr. Coffin said. "As for instance the creation of the world in six days. If the virgin birth is essential because it is mentioned in the confession and the scriptures, then it also would follow that the acceptance of the creation of the world in six days would be made essential and the church would become ridiculous in the eyes of the world."

Protest Presented.

A protest against the ruling of the judicial commission yesterday was formally presented to the assembly today by the Rev. Chas. B. Swartz of Chicago. The protest was circulated among the commissioners for signatures and so far some 50 had appended their names.

The holding of the commission, which became the judgment of the assembly by its adoption, violates the confession of faith itself, the protest asserted. The following from the confession was quoted in substantiation: "The requirement of an implicit faith and an absolute and blind obedience is to destroy liberty of conscience and reason also."

"By requiring such absolute conformity," the protest said, "it restores those Roman Catholic theories of ecclesiastical authority which it was the purpose of Presbyterian protestantism to overthrow."

John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton University, it was made public today, wrote a letter to be presented to the judicial commission on the Van Dusen case. Among other things, Dr. Hibben declared that he could "never conscientiously encourage" a Princeton graduate to enter the ministry of the Presbyterian Church if Van Dusen were bound to be a danger to the church as a minister of the gospel of Christ.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 27.—Harvard graduate students will be allowed to take part in a debate between Harvard and Oxford here next October, the debating council of the University decided today. It was said to be the first time that graduates had been given such permission. The Oxford debating team is expected to come to America in September for a tour of American colleges.

MILLER EXTENDS OLIVE BRANCH TO CITY COMMITTEE

Special Meeting to Be Held Tomorrow Noon to Consider Attitude Toward the Mayor.

The Republican City Central Committee will hold a special meeting tomorrow noon to decide if it shall accept the olive branch Mayor Miller extended to 21 of its 26 members in a special meeting at his office yesterday afternoon.

It is apparent the result of yesterday's meeting was that those present agreed, for the most part, to sponsor a resolution pledging loyalty to the Mayor and repudiating A. Samuel Bender, Fifth Ward Committeeman who has stated he will not further assist Mayor Miller in defending the mayoralty contest brought by William L. Igoe, Democrat.

Resolutions Read.

The resolutions were read to those present in the Mayor's office yesterday. One of those present said the Mayor then expressed a desire to know how each member of the committee voted on the resolution. Chairman Louis J. Decker replied that the deliberations of the committee were secret, but the Mayor said that he "would pump somebody."

It is known that some members of the committee, favorable to the Mayor, suggested that ouster proceedings be brought against Bender on the ground that he does not live in the Fifth Ward, which he represents in the committee. Bender, elected last August over Gabe Roth, an old standby in the Republican organization, has had a difficult time reconciling Roth's friends to the latter's elimination from the committee.

Bender said today that he maintained three homes, one at 1444 Laurel avenue, one on North and South road in St. Louis County, and one at 1013 Franklin avenue. This last address, he said, is his legal residence, and said that Missouri courts have held that residence is a matter of declaration and intention.

"Cheap Retaliation."

"I spend most of my time at the Franklin avenue address, which is in the Fifth Ward," he said. "My wife and children stay there to some degree just as they do at our other places. I regard this investigation as cheap retaliation on the part of the Mayor for the fight I am making against him."

The Fifth Ward Republican Club, meeting last night at 301 North Twenty-second street, expressed in a resolution confidence in Bender and condemned Mayor Miller for violation of his pledges to retain efficient city employees and for violation of the city charter in "discharging employees for political reasons."

The breach between the Mayor and the committee, which culminated a week ago in open denunciation of him in the committee, was brought about by his refusal to recognize endorsements of the committee in making appointments and his statement that "at least six committeemen" had been charged by his investigators with having taken "money or promises from the Democrats in the last campaign. Mayor Miller said he would send every effort to send the disloyal ones to the penitentiary.

Demand Renewed.

Yesterday the committee renewed its demand for recognition.

Of the 13 committeemen in the meeting yesterday, eight hold some kind of public office and a ninth, Frank M. Slater, of the Seventeenth Ward, is a brother of Street Commissioner Slater. Two others, Martin Scherer, Tenth Ward, and State Senator Peter Anderson, First Ward, are favorable to the Mayor.

Those present were Anderson, Supply Commissioner G. H. Getting, Second Ward, who will be deposed Monday, but will then accept employment with a company in which Mayor Miller has a heavy financial interest; Louis Becker, Eighth Ward, a Deputy Circuit Clerk, who supported Mayor Miller in the primary; Richard Smit, a Deputy Circuit Clerk, Ninth Ward; Martin Scherer, Tenth Ward; Park Commissioner Pape, Eleventh Ward, a Miller appointee; Frank M. Slater, Seventeenth Ward; Edward E. Butler, son-in-law of Hank Wecker, Eighteenth Ward; Harry Meyer, Nineteenth Ward, a city employee; Robert Claxton, Twenty-second Ward, a city employee; William C. Doerr, Twenty-fourth Ward, a city employee; Chairman Louis J. Becker, Twenty-seventh Ward, and Charles R. Gillespie, Twenty-eighth Ward, a city employee.

Women Present.

The women present were: Mrs. W. T. Nardin, Twenty-eighth Ward; Mrs. E. Q. Holthaus, Fifteenth Ward; Mrs. Eileen Horstman, Second Ward; Mrs. Harry W. Hoffman, Twenty-seventh Ward; Mrs. A. H. Eisman, Twenty-second Ward; Mrs. Maude Eismann, Twenty-second Ward.

First Ward: Mrs. Clea Smith, Ninth Ward, and Miss Lenore Kamer, Seventeenth Ward.

OLDFIELD TO SUCCEED CHAIRMAN SHAVER

Arkansas Congressman Reported
a Harmony Candidate for Democratic Post.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 27.—Representative Oldfield of the Democratic Congressional Committee, will succeed Chairman Shaver of West Virginia as chairman of the Democratic National Committee. It is said here the change to be made within a few weeks.

Jockeying of various groups
within the committee for the leadership was said to have shown Oldfield as a compromise selection
after Shaver had informed committee members he would not retire until a harmony candidate was found.

News that arrangements were about complete for a change in the chairmanship was disclosed yesterday at the same time that Oldfield's announced plans for conferences with leaders in New Jersey and Massachusetts for Democratic campaigns in the special elections to be held there. The Arkansas representative will leave about Aug. 1
on a tour of Western States to confer with Democratic leaders on plans for the 1936 congressional campaign.

Agreement of party chieftains upon Oldfield is understood to have followed a warning from Shaver that factional fights in selecting his successor would endanger the program of the National Committee.
Exchanges between representatives of William G. McAdoo and Gov.
Smith of New York and Shaver are believed to have facilitated the compromise.

Democratic leaders have desired settlement of the question because they plan to begin as soon as possible preliminary work for the next campaign, which will include reorganization of the party's financial affairs and settlement of outstanding obligations resulting from the late presidential race.

Shaver Questioned in Suit Against National Committee.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 27.—Clem L.
Shaver, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, today filing in a preliminary examination in a suit brought against the committee by the Van Patten Agency, advertisers, said yesterday that publicity in the campaign had been placed in other hands and that he was not entirely familiar with what plans or contracts for publicity had been made.

The suit brought by the Van Patten Agency was instituted as a counter-attack against the committee, which sued the agency for the accounting of $50,000 alleged to have been advanced by the committee for advertising in the presidential campaign last year. The agency claimed that $55,000 was due it as commissions and for advertising under a contract.

Shaver said publicity contracts
had been handled by Robert W.
Woolley, and that his connection
with them was merely to e-mail Woolley in the matter. He said he supposed his silence could be considered as his consent, which he did not intend to do.

MONUMENT TO TOM SAWYER AND HUCKLEBERRY FINN

Mark Twain's Literary Characters
to Stand at Head of Street
in Hannibal, Mo.

By the Associated Press.
HANNIBAL, Mo., May 27.—A monument to Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn, Mark Twain's famous literary characters, will be erected on Cardiff Hill, famous in the humorist's books, and standing at the head of one of Hannibal's prominent business streets,
by Mr. and Mrs. George A. Mahan, and their son, Eulany Mahan.
The Mahans several years ago purchased the boyhood home of Mark Twain, restored it and presented it to the city. The monument will stand within a block of that literary shrine.

Frederick C. Hibbard, a native Missourian, who designed the Mark Twain monument erected
here several years ago by the State, will be the creator of the new figure.

NEW MOBERLY BUS SERVICE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MOBERLY, Mo., May 27.—A Moberly to Quincy, Ill., bus line is about to be inaugurated here. W.
D. Chadwick, manufacturer of Quincy, is sponsoring the new project.
Chadwick expects to extend his line from Moberly to Quincy as fast
as Missouri State roads are opened and will start his new lines running from Moberly to Paris and later extend the route to include Shal-lons. He already has a line in operation between Quincy and Hannibal. Chadwick will drive the first bus over the new line himself,
and the headquarters of the company will be established here. The initial run will be made over the Moberly-Paris route some time this week.

Comment on It, Then Out.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, May 27.—Communists today invaded a meeting of the City Council at the town of Villeneuve-Le-Roi and compelled the members of the council to sign
a document proclaiming the dissolution of that body. The Communists then forced the councilors
to leave the room in the City Hall
where they had been in session.
Later yesterday summoned by the council city officials tested the invading Communists. The reports made no mention of casualties.

Spring Find You Tired and Achy?

Do you get up these fine Spring mornings feeling tired, achy, and dispirited? Are you tortured all day with nerve-racking backache? Evening find you too worn out and miserable to get any rest or comfort?

Then look to your kidneys! If the kidneys are not properly filtering the blood, there's apt to be slow poisoning of the whole system. Then comes torturing backache, stabbing pains, lameness, soreness, stiffness,
dizzy spells and annoying kidney irregularities.

Don't risk neglect. If your kidneys are sluggish, help them with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills.
Doan's are used and recommended the world over. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These St. Louis Folks:

K. ILLINGER, Proprietor of Bakery, 4501 Easton Av.
says: "I had a lot of trouble with my kidneys and suffered with backache, especially when I lifted anything. My head ached and dizzy spells often came over me when spots appeared before my eyes. My kidneys were disordered. Doan's Pills, which I used, drove away the trouble and I haven't suffered since. I give Doan's credit for the cure."

Wm. J. Todinka, 1302 A. S.
12th Blvd., says: "After a cold my kidneys were dis-ordered and I suffered with backache. When I stopped a catch across my kidneys
made it hard for me to straighten. My limbs were and I felt tired and worn out. Dizzy spells also came over me. After using Doan's Pills from the Wolff-Willson Drug Co., I was relieved."

PLANE CARRIER EFFECTIVE IN GAMES

Observers Say Maneuvers Demonstrated Value in Launching Craft at Sea.

By the Associated Press.
U. S. S. SEATTLE, OFF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS, May 27.—
Extensive discussions today by observers of the recent inter-fleet maneuvers off the island of Maui revealed that the aircraft carrier U. S.
Langley proved the high value
of aircraft carriers as important elements of the fleet offense and defense, during the recent inter-fleet maneuvers off Maui. The observers, however, showed that the high speed capacity of the Langley would reduce its effectiveness
in actual battle, the observers said.

The Langley, formerly the Collier battleship, has a speed of only 12
knots and has been used by the fleet largely as an experimental target to solve the difficult problem of launching and landing observing and fighting planes while at sea. The observers said an invasion of the Hawaiian Islands by the U. S. Navy has been learned by the Japanese and the Langley's showing that appropriations will be made for the construction of additional aircraft carriers which is permitted under the 1935 naval budget. The Langley is the only United States and Great Britain by the Washington treaty.

It is pointed out airplanes launched from the Langley as the fleet attacked the island of Maui
during the recent joint army and navy maneuvers were able to obtain a considerable higher altitude than will be possible for the heavier army Martin bombing planes, and thus the Blue fleet
gained a theoretical air supremacy.

During the recent engagements
between the White and Green divisions of the fleet, 11 airplanes were launched in order within one minute. As the first plane took
the air from the stern, the second
plane began to run along the deck
preliminary to taking flight, the
remaining four taking off at 10-
second intervals perfectly and without accident.

A half hour later the remaining five planes took off at similar intervals and without mishap, flew off to scout out the Green fleet position and course and to direct the White detachment gun and torpedo attacks. As the first plane took
the air from the stern, the second
plane began to run along the deck
preliminary to taking flight, the
remaining four taking off at 10-
second intervals perfectly and with-
out accident.

Admiral Coontz announced that some detachments of the fleet would participate in the Memorial day parade in Honolulu Saturday.

FARMERS GET FREE LIME TEST

Carload to Growers.
By the Post-Dispatch.
WILFORD, Mo., May 27.—In order to demonstrate the benefits accru-ing from use of lime on "burnt"
soil, the Missouri Lime Co.
of Auxvasse has donated a carload of pulverized limestone to the farmers of Callaway County and the Chicago and Alton railroad company has agreed to haul it to Hannibal without charge.
The farmers chosen for the demonstrations will be furnished
enough lime to make three "sick cows" well. The soil will first be tested to ascertain how much lime is needed. A narrow strip of un-plowed ground will be left throughout the demonstration field.
This is a novel method of showing lime's value and practical use in the growth of soil building crops like red clover, alfalfa
and sweet clover.

PLANE CARRIER EFFECTIVE IN GAMES

Observers Say Manoeuvres Demonstrated Value in Launching Craft at Sea.

Associated Press.
SEATTLE, May 27.—(AP)—Discussions today by observers of the recent inter-fleet maneuvers off the island of Maui resulted in the aircraft carrier being rated as the most important element of the fleet offense and defense during the recent inter-fleet maneuvers off Maui.

The observers, however, stressed that the low speed capacity of the Langley would reduce its effectiveness in actual battle, the observers said.

The Langley, formerly the Collier, has a speed of only 12 knots and has been used by the navy largely as an experimental launching and landing observation and fighting planes while at sea.

The observers said an invaluable lesson has been learned by the navy with the Langley and can be used as a guide in the construction of the new carriers Saratoga and Lexington converted from the hulls of battle cruisers as a result of the Washington limitation agreement.

Gave Air Supremacy.
The Saratoga has been launched and the Lexington will be launched soon. Naval men hope as a result of the Hawaiian maneuvers and the Langley's show that appropriations will be made for the construction of additional aircraft carriers which is limited under the 155,000 tonnage limitation placed upon the United States and Great Britain by the Washington treaty.

It is pointed out airplanes launched from the Langley as the fleet attacked the island of Oahu during the recent joint army and navy maneuvers were able to make a considerable higher altitude than will be possible for the carrier army Martin bombing planes, and thus the Blue fleet gained a theoretical air supremacy.

Launched Without Mishap.
During the recent engagements between the White and Green divisions of the fleet, 11 airplanes were launched in order within one hour. As the first plane took to the air from the stern, the second began to run along the deck preliminary to taking flight, the remaining four taking off at 10-second intervals perfectly and without incident.

A half hour later the remaining five planes took off at similar intervals and without mishap, flew to the target and returned to the carrier and course and to direct the White detachment gun and torpedo with what are considered satisfactory results.

The grand fleet today, meeting a theoretically superior force remained in course and sped back to the haven offered by the theoretically mine-protected Lahaina roadstead.

Admiral Conz announced that the detachments of the fleet would participate in the Memorial parade in Honolulu Saturday.

PIONEER IN DEVELOPMENT OF INSULIN NOW REPORTS GLAND DISEASE SPECIFIC

Dr. J. B. Collip Says Extract Is for Treating "Parathyroid Tetany"—Doctors Oppose Limiting Liquor Prescriptions.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 27.—Dr. J. B. Collip, a Canadian scientist who gave to the world insulin, the hormone of the pancreas, health and disease were described at one of the many medical meetings being held here this week.

As an addition to the growing knowledge about these secretions of the human body, Dr. Collip, pointing out that "A study of the development of mankind, ethnologically, embryologically and anthropologically is fundamental to the proper comprehension of scientific medicine."

The physicians also took a slap at the middle man in medicine when resolution condemning the practice of medicine by corporations was adopted. This action was frankly aimed at commercial organizations making a specialty of periodic physical examinations. The idea of yearly inspections to assure the health of the human body was strongly commended, but it was stated that the conduct of such examinations must rest with the patient's family physician, who knows his needs if they are to be scientifically and properly conducted.

Resolution on Liquor.
The American Medical Association, through the action of its house of delegates, yesterday effectively reversed its stand taken in 1917 during the stress of war, that spirituous liquor is not a drug. A resolution introduced by Dr. Thomas Clark Chalmers of Forest Hills, N. Y., and passed unanimously declared that alcoholic liquor is a "drug" and should therefore be prescribed like any other drug without limitations as to amount. This is in contradiction to the declaration of eight years ago which held that liquor is not necessary in the treatment of diseases.

This action, taken by representatives of 50,000 physicians of the United States, anticipates the action that will arise if the United States Supreme Court declares unconstitutional the section of the Volstead act that prevents a physician from prescribing more than one pint of liquor to a patient every ten days.

The question of the constitutionality of this legislation has been raised by a test case filed by Dr. Samuel W. Lambert of New York. The American Medical Association resolution commented upon the fact that liquor of standard quality was unobtainable under the present state of affairs. To prevent unlawful prescribing under new regulations the doctors suggest cooperation with the Internal Revenue officials in the framing of the new regulations and the policing of their own profession.

question, the antievolution law of Tennessee, was forecast when Dr. Horace M. Brown of Milwaukee introduced a resolution declaring that "Any restrictions of the proper study of scientific fact in regularly established scientific institutions is inimical to the progress of science and to the public welfare," and pointing out that "A study of the development of mankind, ethnologically, embryologically and anthropologically is fundamental to the proper comprehension of scientific medicine."

The physicians also took a slap at the middle man in medicine when resolution condemning the practice of medicine by corporations was adopted. PROFESSOR HERE ON VISIT FROM GERMAN UNIVERSITY Expresses Wonder at Number of Patients Treated Free at Dental Schools.
Prof. Theodore Brinkman of the University of Bonn, Germany, who is in this country on an extended tour, was a visitor at St. Louis University during his stop here this week. Prof. Brinkman was taken to Forest Park, Shaw's Garden and other show spots here, and also inspected some of the large industrial plants. He expressed particular wonder at the number of patients treated at no charge in the dental schools.

"Dentistry has not progressed to such a point in Germany," he said, "that the poorer classes are familiar with crowns and fillings."

BRITISH MAY FORCE RAJAH TO ABDICATE
Government, Gravely Concerned Over Outcome of Nautch Girl Case.
Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publishing Co., (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)
LONDON, May 27.—Three tools of Dhulwa Muzaji Rao Jolka, Knight of the Grand Cross of the Order of the Indian Empire, friend and host of the Prince of Wales, and Maharajah of Indore, have been sentenced Saturday to be hanged for the murder of the rich merchant, Abdul Bula, and the wounding of Mumtaz Begum, the Maharajah's former favorite.

Will the Maharajah now be forced to abdicate or be charged with murder himself?

Grave political questions which must embarrass the British Government have been raised by the death sentence against the chief of the Indore Mounted Police, the Captain of the Indore Air Force and the principal officer of the Maharajah's household, and the imprisonment for life of the Indore man of the highest rank among the actual assassins, Arand Rao Phansie, Adjutant-General of the Indore army.

Historians of the famous house of Holkar in Indore, can only survive this shock at cost of great loss of prestige to British justice throughout India. The Maharajah was not brought to court. His name was not mentioned in the trial.

Accusation Suppressed.
When Mumtaz Begum made a statement accusing him, demanding justice against the chief criminal, it was suppressed. When she stated her child by him was murdered, the Court record was altered to make her statement read, "The child died."

During the trial sufficient influence appears to have been brought even upon the counsel for the defense to prevent mention of the Maharajah's name. The lawyer for Shafi Ahmed, Chief of Police, now sentenced to die, pleaded that his client was "only a hireling and did it for another's sake."

The lawyer for the other two condemned men told the court "exceedingly powerful influences must have been brought to bear upon them."

Baula's murder and the attempt to kidnap the Nautch girl took place because Mumtaz had escaped from the Maharajah. The whole machinery of the Indore Government was employed to avenge this slight to the ruler. Now his officials must die or spend their lives in jail because of what they did for him, while the Maharajah's name is kept out of court.

London Press Wary.
The London press, as was to be expected, keeps silence on these strange events, with the exception of the Labor party organ, the Daily Herald, which intimates in its direct terms as it dares that something ought to be done. Under a headline across the front page, "Nautch Girl Crime May Cost Rajah His Throne," it says:

"The hirelings have been convicted and now India is asking: What of the man for whose sake they did their work? Will he be compelled to abdicate or will he still be allowed to hold the historic throne of the house of Holkar?"

"Had he been implicated, however slightly, in a conspiracy against the British Raj, all India knows that he would have been removed swiftly and without hesitation. There is in high Anglo-Indian circles strong feeling that abdication is the least that can be asked of this medieval Maharajah, but there are also strong influences at work in his favor."

"High authorities are very worried for the policy of the Government in India has been made of the great Indian Princes bulwarks of the British Raj against the rising tide of nationalism; and the instinct of the Government is to support and protect them. The danger of alienating them is great and Holkar has powerful friends among his fellow Princes. Yet the danger of condoning their activities is equally great."

NEGRO SWINDLER GETS $23
Tells Woman Her Husband Needs Sum to Collect Race Winnings.
A negro, believed to have been the one who has worked the wealthier lottery swindle with considerable regularity of late, changed his technique slightly yesterday when he visited the home of Mrs. Emma Winkler, 4882A Natural Bridge avenue.

He told Mrs. Winkler her husband had just won $900 on a horse race, but would have to have $23 at once in order to collect the winnings. He had been sent, he said, to get the $23. He got it. When Winkler arrived home and was told of the transaction he declared he had never bet on a horse race in his life, to say nothing of winning $900.

MOTHER OF 9 FALLS OUT OF CAR TO DEATH

Thrown Out When Husband
Swerves Auto to Avoid Ditch Beside Road.

Mrs. Laura H. Haynes, 37 years old, wife of J. R. Haynes, and the mother of nine children, was instantly killed at 6 p. m. yesterday on the Chicago-St. Louis hard road, about five miles north of Edwardsville, when her husband sharply swerved his machine, after its rear fender had been touched by a speeding sedan, and Mrs. Haynes was thrown out on her head. Her six-month-old baby was in her arms at the time, and was picked up five feet away from its mother, unhurt. They have been living at Hannibal, Ill.

Haynes told the authorities that his wife was sitting with him on the front seat. When the speeding car, which he believed to be a Hudson, and which was going north as he was, touched his machine's fender, he sharply turned his car to the right of the road, but on noticing a deep ditch, he swerved back again, the quick manipulation of the car causing it almost to turn over, and throwing out Mrs. Haynes.

Man Hit by Car, Driver Is Caught by Policemen.

William J. Monahan, 54 years old, of 4207 De Tonty street, suffered a fractured skull at 4:30 p. m. yesterday when struck by an automobile as he was crossing Folsom avenue at Tower Grove avenue. The driver of the machine, Fred Helm, 22, of 4045 Blaine avenue, did not stop after the accident but was caught two blocks away by a policeman. When arrested he said he did not know he had struck Monahan.

A machine driven by Oliver Blohm, 20, a metal worker, of 4838 Gravois avenue, crashed into the rear of a dairy wagon which was standing in Gravois avenue, near Gannett street, at 2:30 a. m. today, causing the team of horses to run away. Twelve pounds of butter and about 50 gallons of milk were destroyed. Blohm was arrested and taken to City Hospital, where he was pronounced suffering from acute alcoholism.

Burial of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marshall May Be in Chicago.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marshall of 13 Princeton avenue, University City, who were killed when their machine was struck yesterday by a Michigan Central railroad train at a crossing about four miles south of Owens, Mich., will probably be taken to Chicago, their former home, for burial.

Thomas M. Marshall of Chicago, a brother of Marshall, president of the Marshall Electric Co., 3225 Locust street, has taken charge of the bodies. At the Marshall home it was said that no word as to funeral arrangements had been received, except that the funeral would probably be held in Chicago.

SEEKS PROSECUTION OF U. S. CITIZENS WHO AIR DEBT VIEWS

Congressman Appeals to Coolidge to Enforce Criminal Code Against Those Who Talk Abroad.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The activities of certain Americans with regard to the war debt problem today led Representative Fish of New York, a Republican member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, to ask President Coolidge to enforce a section of the criminal code which provides fine and imprisonment for Americans who misrepresent the views of the Government to officials of foreign nations.

Fish called attention to a law enacted while Benjamin Franklin was Ambassador to France, which stipulates that any American who, without authority, communicated directly or indirectly with any foreign official with an intent to influence or defeat the policies of the United States shall be fined not more than $5000 and imprisoned not more than three years. The New York Representative urged that a test case be made against a New York banker for apologizing for the United States for having asked France to recognize and fund the war obligations. He did not name the banker referred to.

TWO WOMEN ARE SOUGHT HERE

They Are Mrs. Sallie Bradford and Mrs. Leslie Kinneer.

Mrs. Sallie Bradford is being sought in St. Louis by policewomen on a telegram from relatives at Columbus, O., which said: "Sallie May died yesterday and will be buried Sunday." The message is signed by Mrs. Elizabeth Draper.

Mrs. Leslie Kinneer is being sought at the instance of relatives at Denver, Colo., who write they want to know what became of the personal effects of Cora E. Kinneer, who died at Mounds, Ill., last October.

RAILROAD QUILTS OPERATING

By the Associated Press. RICHMOND, Va., May 27.—After 55 years of continuous operation, the Potomac, Fredericksburg & Piedmont Railroad has been dissolved by order of the State Corporation Commission. Competition of motor buses and decreased activity in the timber districts served by the road were assigned in the dissolution petition as the cause of abandonment.

INDICTED IN $500,000 FRAUD

Two California Promoters Promised $10 for Each $1 Invested. By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, May 27.—Deputy District Attorney L. W. Haner announced today that the Grand Jury had indicted Thomas Hennessey and Harry Hibbs, accused of mulcting Southern California investors of at least $500,000.

Hibbs and Hennessey arrested several weeks ago, were charged with having represented to investors that they were agents for a $4,000,000 merger of approximately one-third of the railroads of the United States and that investments would pay $10 for each $1 invested.

Japan Sends Troops to Tientsin. TOKYO, May 27.—The serious strike conditions obtaining among employees of Japanese spinning companies at Tientsin, China, today caused the Government to order a destroyer from Port Arthur and police troops from Tientsin to proceed to the scene of the strike. According to reports received here the strikers occupied the factories and the Tientsin Chinese police force was inadequate. The situation was described as "threatening."

$300 Stolen From Home.

While Mrs. Harry Lynch of 6042 Cates avenue was away from home yesterday afternoon burglars entered her home and took $300, which was hidden in a china closet. Mrs. Lynch left the front door key under a flower pot on her front porch when she left. The key was not there when she returned.

TRAGEDY IS AVERTED, PERJURY DISPERSED

Cab Driver Apologizes in Court for Saying Traffic Cop Was the Perjurer

In the not so distant past one of the means tax drivers found to amuse themselves was trying to crowd each other out at the entrance to Union Station, thereby mixing business with pleasure, and having the high joy of seeing a competition cabby lose his "fare," and perhaps his temper, while the first driver got the luscious fare and the other's goat. Fights, verbal and physical, resulted, police had to intervene, and the tax companies made many arrests. Drivers were hauled into court. So the tax companies made a gentlemen's agreement that their chauffeurs would take their turns at Union Station as they came.

This secret rite Joseph Ogletree, Yellow Cab driver, is said to have violated last Saturday night while Motor Cycle Patrolman Schaeffer was on guard. Schaeffer testified in Police Judge Rosecan's court yesterday that Ogletree had just discharged a passenger at the station entrance, and should have wheeled about to the end of the line, but that the driver saw someone coming out of the depot, put his car in reverse, and grabbed this nearest and dearest "fare." So the policeman charged Ogletree with obstructing traffic, the city ordinance failing to say anything about gentlemen's agreements.

When Schaeffer got through testifying Ogletree said he would like to ask him some questions. He did, and Schaeffer repeated what he had said before. So the defendant lawyer told Judge Rosecan the officer had perjured himself. As might be expected, Schaeffer didn't take kindly to the statement. Ogletree insisted Schaeffer was wrong. Ogletree said he'd lose his job if his company thought he'd violated the "gentlemen's agreement."

The Court declared he didn't want to see Ogletree lose his job, but nevertheless he believed Ogletree had violated that much cherished "gentlemen's agreement." The Judge said he was going to let the driver off easy. He would fine him $5 and stay it on good behavior. Then he called Ogletree to the bench. He likewise called Schaeffer to the bench. The Court announced he was quite ready to hear Ogletree apologize to the officer relative to that perjury business. Ogletree said he supposed he was wrong. He said he apologized. Schaeffer put out his hand and Ogletree grabbed it.

Tragedy was averted and perjury dispersed.

TESTIFY MAN TOLD OF STRIKING EX-SOLDIER

Hossenlopp Inquest Witnesses Give Evidence Supporting Theory of Violence.

Testimony that a laborer formerly employed at Christian Brothers College at Glencoe, St. Louis County, had boasted to them that he hit August Hossenlopp, a former soldier, and knocked him down, was introduced at the Coroner's inquest today into the death, May 12, of Hossenlopp at city hospital by two residents of Glencoe.

The laborer, Patrick O'Brien, disappeared from the college after Hossenlopp's death and authorities have been unable to find him. After hearing the testimony of several witnesses the inquest was continued until tomorrow in an effort to locate other witnesses.

Body Examined. As has been told, Hossenlopp's death was first ascribed by city hospital physicians to heart disease, but a post-mortem examination performed Monday after the body had been exhumed from the National Cemetery at Jefferson Barracks showed that his death was the result of a fractured skull.

At the inquest today Martin Swane of Glencoe testified that O'Brien told him May 5, the morning Hossenlopp was found unconscious in his clubhouse at Glencoe, that he had hit "Happy," the nickname by which Hossenlopp was known, and knocked him down. O'Brien told him, Swane testified, that he left Hossenlopp on the floor of the clubhouse after drinking all the home brew beer in the clubhouse.

Swane's testimony was corroborated by Edwin Rogers, another Glencoe resident, who testified that he heard O'Brien make the statement to Swane. He also testified that O'Brien had told him the same story.

Other Testimony. Several other witnesses testified to hearing about a fight at the club the night before Hossenlopp was found but no testimony was introduced to show who was present. Authorities investigating the case believe that Hossenlopp was injured in a fight during a home-brew party at his clubhouse. They have learned since his death that he sold home-brew and whisky to visitors at the clubhouse.

A pick handle, found on the floor of the shack when Hossenlopp was discovered, was introduced at the inquest. Swane and Rogers testified that O'Brien made no mention to them of what he struck Hossenlopp with.

MRS. MARY PACE WALL DIES

AT HOME OF HER DAUGHTER

She Was Widow of Charles A. Wall, Wealthy Mine Owner and

Miller Who Died Last July.

Mrs. Mary Pace Wall, widow of Charles A. Wall, died last night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John J. Ward, 4954 West Ping boulevard, of a complication of ailments after an illness of several months. She was 52 years old.

Charles A. Wall, her husband, a wealthy mine owner and miller, who died last July, was chairman of the Board of Directors of the Deere & Kahn Coal and Coke Co. and was connected with mining ventures in Illinois. They were married in Duquoin, Ill., in 1891. Mrs. Wall is survived by a son, William P. Wall, of 4943 Lindell boulevard, the daughter, Mrs. Ward, with whom she made her home, and by two sisters, Mrs. Albert Lewis of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. O. M. Waters of Mount Vernon, Ill., and a brother, Albert E. Pace, of St. Louis.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from a chapel at 4449 Olive street to Valhalla Cemetery.

LIEUT. COL. REPINGTON, NOTED

WAR CORRESPONDENT, DIES

Wrote Illuminating Articles on Activities on Various Fronts During World War.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, May 27.—Lieutenant-Colonel C. A. Repington, noted war correspondent and writer on military subjects, died Monday night of apoplexy at Hove. He was 97 years old. His military career included campaigns in Afghanistan, the Sudan and South Africa. During the progress of the World War he wrote many illuminating articles on the military situations on the various fronts.

Col. Repington's articles, during the World War, were printed in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Three men kidnaped Charles A. Davis of 3524 Delmar boulevard, a chauffeur for the Red Top Taxicab Co., at 11:30 p. m. yesterday and, after robbing him of $28, put him out of the machine and drove away.

The men entered the taxicab at Hotel Chase and ordered Davis to drive them to 4200 Enright avenue. When they reached this address one of the men drew a revolver and forced Davis to relinquish the driver's seat to him. Davis was placed in the tonneau of the machine and robbed of the money, after which he was put out of the machine at Vandeventer avenue and North Market street. The taxicab was recovered early today at Vandeventer and Market avenues.

Best Newspapers.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, May 27.—A nation-wide boys' press association,
modeled on the Associated Press,
to serve 69 newspapers edited by boys, is to be organized by the Boys' Club Newspaper Association, formed here at the nineteenth annual convention of the Boys' Club Federation.

Lew Williams, director of the Toledo (O.) Newsboys' Club, was elected president of the press association and authorized to select an organizing committee.

The donation by the New York World of a trophy to be awarded annually for the next 16 years to the boys' club, which produces the best newspaper, was announced.
The prize is a large bronze plaque,
carrying 16 shields, each to bear
the name of a prize-winning club.

THREE BROTHERS IN TRIPLE WEDDINGTwo of Them Marry Sisters and Three Sisters of Bridegrooms are Bridesmaids.

A triple wedding of brothers this morning at St. Peter and Paul's Catholic Church, Seventh street and Allen avenue, was a family affair in other respects than the fact that the three bridegrooms are brothers.

William and Theodore Hediger married sisters, Misses Regina and Margaret Kersting, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Kersting of 710 Ann avenue, while the third brother, Joseph, married Miss Gertrude M. Keymann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Keymann, 1015 Lami street. The brothers live with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hediger, at 4171 Cleveland avenue.

Three sisters of the bridegrooms,
Misses Laura, Emma and Catharine Hediger, were bridesmaids. Henry and John Kersting, brothers
of the sisters, served as groom-smen for their brothers-in-law to-be, and Joseph, finding himself without an available brother, and his bride having no brothers, was attended by Edward Keymann, her cousin.

Joseph Crow, another cousin of Miss Keymann, bore three rings
upon a silken pillow, and Marcella Kersting, a cousin of the sisters,
carried the basket of rose petals.

The triple wedding followed the triple announcement of engagements last Christmas.

All of the brothers are salesmen.

U. S. VIEW ON CONVENTION

Holds It Does Not Cover Boats Policing Ships Opposite Canada.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 27.—Conventions between the United States and Canada regarding armaments
on the Great Lakes do not limit the number of craft which may be maintained by either nation for policing its shores. In the view of State Department officials.

Under the interpretation placed
here on the Rush-Bagot agreement,
the controlling treaty, plans for augmenting the prohibition navy
in the vicinity of the Detroit River
could be executed without the necessity of entering upon negotiations with Canada. The agreement limited "naval craft" to one boat
on each lake, armed with an 18-pound cannon. Such limitation would not embrace speed boats
armed with machine guns, departmental experts hold.

NURSE SAYS MAN ADMITTED

HE WAS NOT ARTHUR FRAZIER
"I Got in So Deep I Couldn't Get Out," He Said, According to Witness.

By the Associated Press. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 27.— Arthur Lopez-Frazier murdered "I got in so deep I couldn't get out" when he broke down one day last February, and confessed that he was Arthur Lopez, Miss Ann Griffin, of Minneapolis, chief nurse of the United States Veterans' Bureau, testified in Federal Court here today.

Miss Griffin, a witness for the Government in the trial of the suit whereby Lopez-Frazier seeks to be legally identified as Arthur Frazier, Sioux Indian war hero, said the plaintiff wept for ten minutes and then picked up a picture which he previously had said
he did not recognize and declared:
"Yes, that's my uncle, Steve Acosta."

Acosta, a few days ago, identified Lopez-Frazier as his nephew, saying that he was of Mexican birth, a fact that the Government desires to establish.

TERMINAL FOR BUSES FROM NEARBY TOWNS PROPOSEDDirector Brooks to Recommend Action to Traffic Council and Board of Public Service.

The provision of a terminal for buses operating from St. Louis to nearby towns in Missouri and Illinois has been proposed to the Board of Public Service by Director of Streets and Sewers Brooks, who recommends that a space on the north side of the new Union Market, being constructed at Broadway and Morgan streets, be set aside for this purpose.

At present buses stop at different points in the city, making it difficult for prospective passengers to learn where they may be boarded. The question will be discussed at tomorrow's meeting of the Traffic Council, after which action will be taken by the Board of Public Service.

Gen. Miles' Estate to Children.
By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 27.—The will of Lieutenant-General Nelson
A. Miles, who died here two weeks ago, named his son, Maj. Sherman Miles, and his daughter, Mrs. Ce-cellia Miles Reber, as beneficiaries of an estate valued at "more than $50,000." Probating of the will showed that Gen. Miles owned 400 acres of land in the Imperial Valley of California, the value of which was not stated and personal property in this city valued at $50,000.

Relief Until He Began Using Herb Juice.

"To my way of thinking, your medicine, Herb Juice, is the greatest health producer sold today. It has improved my general condition in every way and I never expect to be without a bottle in my home at all times," said Mr. T. O. Walker, 809 West End Place, Moberly, Mo., in a recent conversation with the Herb Juice man.

MR. T. O. WALKER
"As everyone knows," continued
Mr. Walker, "a railroad man's life, at times, is a hard one. We must go out in all kinds of weather, meals
are irregular, and it is mighty hard to keep one's digestive organs regulated as they should be. Most of my former trouble was caused from a chronic case of constipation, which allowed body poisons to form and upset me all over. My stomach was in such a condition that I could hardly eat anything without suffering for hours afterward with gas and indigestion. I had bilious, dizzy attacks and my tongue had a heavy, thick coating on it; kidneys were very irregular, also painful when they acted,
and I just felt tired and worn out all the time. Several of the men I knew on the road had used Herb Juice with such good results that I made up my mind to give it a trial,
but to be honest about it, I did not expect it to give me the wonderful relief it has. I can hardly realize myself that after using a few bottles of this medicine I am enjoying better health than I have for years.
Herb Juice has simply made me over.
I feel and look younger and stronger than I have for many years, my bowels act regularly, never have any trouble from constipation, coating is gone from my tongue, kidneys and liver act regularly and I never have any more bilious attacks or dizzy spells; have a wonderful appetite and gain in weight and strength right along. To my way of thinking Herb Juice is one of the greatest health products sold today, and I am always glad to speak a good word for it."

The Scientific Triumph of Milk
of Magnesia and Pure Mineral Oil Combined

Pure mineral oil is certainly the finest intestinal lubricant. But pure mineral oil alone cannot remove the deep-seated causes of intestinal poison and acid (sour) stomach.

Science has now discovered the ideal combination of lubricant and antacid—Mineral Oil and Milk of Magnesia—Haley's M-O.

The sweet, soothing milk of magnesia in Haley's M-O effectively neutralizes and counteracts the acids
that cause heartburn, gas, belching
and black spots dancing before the eyes. It goes straight and deep to the lower bowel, eliminating the poison. Then the pure mineral oil helps Nature carry them off.

Get a bottle of Haley's M-O today
and discover for yourself the extra value of this perfect emulsion. Pleasant to take, both young and old like it. Your druggist most likely has Haley's M-O. If he hasn't we will supply it by mail postpaid

1910 BUICK Keeps 1925 Train Schedule On 6 DAY TRIP!

THE 1925 Good-Will Tour of the Saint Louis Chamber of Commerce ended last Saturday after 49 Missouri towns had been visited on the six day trip that began Monday, May 18.

A 1910 Buick—and its 1925 Buick companion—met the tourists at Jefferson City—the first stop on the first day—and at California, the second stop—and at Tipton, the third stop. And so on through the day. At each station where the Good-Will Tourists stopped they were greeted by the venerable 1910 Buick and its companion.

Station after station, this performance was repeated throughout the week.

Following the special train schedule—over 1150 miles of roads that were good and bad—the 1910 Buick went straight through six consecutive days of gruelling performance—missing only three towns and overtaking the train at the fourth.

Throughout the week it stopped where the Good-Will Tourists stopped. It ran while their train was running. And it waited 35 minutes for the special train to reach its destination at Delmar Station, Saint Louis, at the end of the journey.

15 Years of Progress have made the 1925 Buick that made this trip quite different in appearance from the 1910 pace-maker—the "Standard of Comparison" in its own day. Body styles and lines have changed. Electric lights and the self-starter have come. Balloon tires have brought a new degree of riding comfort. Buick Four-Wheel Brakes have created a new element of safety.

AND YET—the same Valve-in-Head Principle of Engine Design is found in BOTH Cars.

After all—the engine is the thing that makes or breaks a motor car. Buick is proud of its reputation as the pioneer builder of valve-in-head motor cars. And such pride is justified in the performance recorded on this trip by the 1925 Buick—Motor No. 1399172, and the 1910 Buick—Motor No. 8657. They are brothers under the hood.

Ask any 1925 Chamber of Commerce Good-Will Tourist what HE thinks of Buick performance. Performance is one of the main reasons why you should be driving a Buick today.

The 1910 Buick that made this run was taken in exchange on a New Buick in February after 15 Years of continuous service in the hands of its original owner. It was driven on the trip by A. F. Stephens, of the Vesper-Buick Auto Co. He paced the trip for the 1925 Model driven by J. A. Fink and Lee Porter, Vesper-Buick Employees.

Buick No. 8657 was placed on display in the Vesper-Buick Show Room before most of the tourists had reached their homes.

MANAGER KILLEFER OF SEATTLE SUSPENDED
By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 27.—

Indefinite suspension of Wade "Red" Killefer, manager and part owner of the Seattle Pacific Coast League club, was announced here today by Harry A. Williams, league president. Killefer was suspended. Williams said, for trouble with umpires last week at Salt Lake.

One Way to Settle It.

TWO courts have decided that they lack jurisdiction in the Zbyszko-Lewis controversy. Naturally judges do not want to act as courts of appeal in every petty sporting dispute. Rightfully, athletic disputants have no standing in court unless a suit for damages is brought.

And that's the remedy for either Lewis or Zbyszko, rival mat championship claimants, if either thinks himself aggrieved. However, the general public already has accepted Zbyszko as the championship holder. They base their view on the fact that a referee awarded the title to Wayne Munn at Kansas City; and that Munn was still unbeaten when Zbyszko later tossed him in Philadelphia. In the interim Munn had "defended his title" in Chicago and elsewhere, and also exhibited as "world's champion."

Because Lewis has a belt labeled "champion" does not entitle him to a title claim. Zbyszko owns the title belt given in this country and won in tournament competition. It is permanently his.

However, the best way to end title dispute would be to bring the disputants together.

Whether Zbyszko or Stecher wins, Saturday in St. Louis, or whether Munn beats Lewis at Michigan City on the same day, the logical end of the snarl is a battle between the victors.

Stecher vs. Munn—Ouch!

If by any accident or connivance Munn should BEAT Lewis, and Stecher defeat his venerable foe as expected, such a match would become something of a joke. Munn is a long, long way from wrestling excellence; and Stecher would squeeze him into pulp even more quickly than Zbyszko's bear hug.

If Lewis wins—that's something else again. Lewis, in condition, is a difficult proposition. Let enemies belittle him as they will. He is one of the greatest defensive wrestlers of all time, as the five-hour, no-fall match with Joe Stecher some years ago attests.

The best that mat fans could hope for would be that Lewis and Stecher both win, and then come together in title match. But can you imagine Joe Stecher giving Lewis a chance, after the manner in which Lewis ran, ducked, dodged and sidestepped him for the past three or four seasons?

Nothing more unlikely.

What's Coming Off?

WE predict, however, that Lewis will not win from Munn QUICKLY. The stranger he too good a showman to hurry his stuff along. It would not be surprising if the Michigan City bout showed up Munn in a very fancy light and made possible still another Lewis-Munn contest.

We merely suggest this as a possibility. For, based on a view of Munn in "championship" action, in our opinion Lewis can throw Munn every 10 minutes, as often as Munn can come back—provided Lewis has trained and is extending himself.

Deardorff Leads Macklin.

Gene Deardorff defeated Dr. L. P. Macklin 59 to 41, in 70 innings of the first half of their city amateur three-cushion championship match at Peterson's last night. The final ball will be played tonight.

Stenroos Strong at Finish.

Stenroos pulled away, however, when they were five minutes from the finish and won by 22 yards. Henigan was under the American record, for he registered 11 miles 101 yards. Willie Kyrenen finished third, nearly one mile behind.

World's record was equaled early in the meet when Carl Christensen of the Newark A. C. and a representative of Sweden in the last Olympic games, won the 100-yard high hurdles in 13.1 seconds. That time was set 15 years ago by E. M. Prichard of the old Irish-American A. C.

Jackson Scholz, who was credited last week with a 9.5-10 seconds performance in the 100-yard dash, won the special century sprint in handy fashion from Francis Hussey, former Stuyvesant High School star, but required 10.1-10 seconds to reach the tape.

The 1500-meter special gave the gallery a pretty race to watch. For the bulk of the distance, and right down to the finish line it was a duel between Lloyd Hahn and Jimmy Connolly. Hahn set the early pace but when one and one-half laps from home he slipped, and Connolly and Willie Goodwin to slip past him.

On the long lap, however, he opened up and with Connolly clinging closely to him, they matched strides as they whirled the circuit. Connolly made a gallant fight during the last 100 yards and for a short time was a few inches out in front. Hahn made his final spurt 30 yards from the tape and beat Jimmy by a scant yard.

Just a Touch of Ice-Mint. Presto!
Corns sufferer's gather round; get right up close and listen, here's good news for you.
The real drier in the world Corn "Killer" is here at last. No humbug. Ice-mint the new discovery made from a Japanese product is said to surely and quickly end all foot misery. Think of it: only a touch or two of that cooling, soothing ice-mint and real foot joy is yours. No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying it or afterwards
and it doesn't even irritate the skin.
It just makes a pair of tired, swollen,
aching, burning feet glow with cooling comfort.
Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened callouses
just rub right up and lift off so easy.
It's wonderful.
Every foot sufferer can appreciate a treatment like this, especially women who wear high-heeled shoes.
Try it. Just ask in any drug store for a little ice-mint and learn for yourself what solid foot comfort really is. There is nothing like it.

GAS TRAFFIC BLOCKED

U. S. Proposal at Arms Confer-

GENEVA, May 27.—Further consideration of the American proposal to prohibit traffic in poison

gas has been blocked by the military and naval committee of the League of Nations call another international conference as soon as possible to consider various aspects of chemical warfare.

Germany and the United States,

with the half-hearted support of

Theodore E. Burton's resolution prohibiting international traffic, or else including in the conference's final report of a resolution outlawing gas entirely.

Unwilling to Forewear.

The Americans acquiesced, with the reservation that they might resurrect the issue at a plenary session. They are expected to introduce a resolution outlawing gas warfare, merely to place the delegation on record.

The chief argument advanced in opposition was that, by prohibiting

the traffic in poison gas, the conference thereby would recognize its use. The British delegates argued that a future conference would be able to achieve complete outlawry.

The fact remains, however, that the deliberations of various delegates,

that poison gas is considered one of the most powerful and effective

offense weapons and neither France,

Italy nor England is willing to forewear it, while the Italians are alleged to possess a chemical formula which is said to be the most effective of any compounded since the recent war.

U. S. Delegation Resentful.

The American delegation is openly resentful of the turn of events

and charges that steam-roller methods have been employed in side tracking the Burton resolution.

Its members declare this was done

through fear of the American sealing the league's thunder, the Europeans being loath to give

Washington credit for abolishing

gas.

Members of the league deny this,

pointing out that the agenda is clear-cut and that the question is noncompent, the situation being identical with the one that confronted Representative Stephen G.

Forster of Pennsylvania in his fight

during the opium conference.

GLOBE-DEMOCRAT RECORDS

ITS FINANCIAL CHANGES

Documents Bearing on Capital

Stock Increase Are

Filed.

Three documents bearing on changes in the financial structure

of the Globe-Democrat were filed

yesterday afternoon with the Recorder of Deeds. They gave formal notice of the publisher's decision to increase the company's fully paid capital stock from $1,-

000,000 to $2,000,000; to increase the number of directors from five

to six; and to change the par value

of common stock shares from $100 to $100 and one being equivalent to 10 new ones.

Heretofore the capitalization has consisted of $1,000,000 in common stock, and the additional $1,000,000

in preferred stock represents a stock dividend declared April 30.

The preferred stock has no voting power, except where four quarterly

dividends have not been paid.

About $500,000 of preferred stock

will be offered for sale to the public by its owner, R. Lansing Ray, president.

Beginning five years after issue-

ance of the preferred stock, $50,000

is to be set aside each year as a sinking fund to retire the stock.

No mortgages or bonds are to be issued, unless authorized by 75 per cent of the preferred stockholders.

No dividend in excess of 12 per cent on the common stock is to be paid which will reduce the company's surplus below $100,000.

The company's assets and liabilities

are listed as $2,828,265 and $1,625,025, respectively.

THE THIMBLE THEATER
NOW SHOWING - "A DOUBLE SCARE"

The "Red Plot" to Communize the World

Activity Now Centers in China, Balkan States and France—Mussolini Prevents Propaganda in Italy.

(This is the seventeenth of a series of articles dealing with the plans of the communist dictators in Moscow to overthrow existing governments of the world.)

By PAUL SCOTT MOWER, Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.

PARIS, May 26.—Important to the consummation of the revolution as the communist conquest of the United States is admitted to be, there are many other places where the Moscow conspirators expect more immediate results. Looking about the triumvirate has arrived at the position that international affairs are now in a "democratic-pacifist phase" of bourgeois reaction, in which fascist and social democratic governments will alternate, competitions in armament will continue, and international rivalries between France and Great Britain, France and Germany, the United States and Japan—will dominate.

In these circumstances all communist sections are ordered to recruit members—that is, to "destroy the main power of the adversary. They are ordered to make propaganda and agitation, to enforce strict discipline and communist orthodoxy, to develop the auxiliaries, especially the League of Communist Youth, that "cradle of the future," to seek the support of the peasants and, above all, to be always ready to seize the first opportunity to strike the decisive blow. Sooner or later there will be a new victory.

Intensive Work on Orientals. All must then give active support to this victory, using propaganda, sabotage and, if necessary, armed force to prevent hostile interventions or reactions. The promise is even held forth that the seat of the third international will be transferred from Moscow to the capital of the new conquest—adding all ways that this conquest, proves to be one of the principal countries of Western Europe.

At the same time at least 50 per cent of all revolutionary effort in the next five years, according to much is expected. Herriot is known among the bolsheviks as "the Krensky of France," well meaning, but weak, who unintentionally prepared the way for a communist coup d'etat. His recognition of Soviet Russia greatly facilitated the red propaganda organization in France. The Soviet Embassy in the Rue de Grenelle has been a hotbed of third international plotting and intrigue.

France Has 80,000 Communists. The French communist section is admitted to have made much progress and to have become very important—there are said to be 80,000 convinced communists in France, with 300,000 of the most fanatical in Paris alone. The section is ordered to perfect its organization, to intensify its work in the principal industrial centers, to form germ cells in the factories, the army and the navy, to agitate for shop and factory committees, perfect the "united front" from below, and endeavor to "honeycomb" the general labor confederation, to establish close contact with the German section, and especially—as France is still a peasant country—to work among the peasants, taking as its watchword "long live the labor-peasant government."

Prior to the recent fall of the Herriot government, Moscow was confident that soon it would even be able to obtain a loan from Moscow, because of the loan to the German section, with its 250,000 sworn fighters, and its 2,000,000 communist votes. Germany, because it is so highly industrialized, is the country upon which from the first the red chiefs have especially fixed their gaze, considering it a natural complement to agricultural Russia, an appropriate ground for orthodox Marxism and a fertile field for revolution because of its recent defeat in war.

German Section Strong. The best of all the national sections, however, is conceded to be the German section, with its 250,000 sworn fighters, and its 2,000,000 communist votes. Germany, because it is so highly industrialized, is the country upon which from the first the red chiefs have especially fixed their gaze, considering it a natural complement to agricultural Russia, an appropriate ground for orthodox Marxism and a fertile field for revolution because of its recent defeat in war.

Twenty million of German workers," said Lenin, "all literate, more civilized than we, and with a higher-class machine, will push forward the world proletarian revolution with the speed of an express train."

Three great attempts have been made to bring Germany by force into the union of socialist soviet republics, and transfer the executive of the third international to Berlin—the so-called uprising of 1919, the "March" uprising of 1921, the great crisis of the fall of 1923. That all failed has not daunted the arch conspirators.

They have persuaded themselves that the reasons for the 1923 fiasco were merely tactical—they should have foreseen and forestalled the "regrettable right-wing deviation." They should have been more energetic in the use of force. They should have provoked serious complications simultaneously in France. The experts' reparations plan, bringing economic stability and American capital to Germany, has strengthened the bourgeoisie, Stalin admits, but it burdens the workers heavily and will, he concludes, be a good thing for the revolution in the long run. The German section is ordered to remain quiet for the moment, neither seeking rash adventures nor indulging in too active an opportunism, but recruiting, enforcing stricter discipline and orthodox and combining the "legal" with the "illegal" struggle.

Border States Held Important. Of the lesser European states, it is principally those along the Russian border which, for obvious reasons, interest the red conspirators. The Scandinavian sections are criticized for their lack of "revolutionary ozone," and are urged to be more aggressive. The Czech-Slovak section is praised for its relative strength and good organization, but is being used less as an end in itself than as a factor to be held in reserve in case of interesting complications in Germany, the Balkans or Eastern Europe. Also, it is urged to pay more attention to peasant and national minority questions than it has in the past.

The Polish party is strategically important. The work of recruiting and agitation goes on actively in Poland, but Moscow confesses to disappointment at the lack of opportunism and of skill in maneuvering which this section has manifested. There should, for example, have been a general communist uprising in Poland at the time of the Cracow riots in 1922.

In Baltic States and Balkans. The two secondary regions which particularly occupy the attention of the red chiefs are the Baltic states and the Balkans. The Baltic states, especially Estonia and Latvia, are looked upon by Moscow as its sure prey sooner or later. Communism is admittedly weak in these two states—weak in Latvia, than in Estonia—but the soviet border is close at hand, communists can be sent across secretly and the red army, if necessary, can be utilized to put the finishing touches to the "revolution" much as it did in Georgia, in the Caucasus a few years ago. True, the Revolt of December, 1924, failed, but that, in communist parlance, was a "mere rehearsal." The main thing for the present in all the border states is to keep up terrorism, frontier irritation, military and economic threats so as to maintain unrest and prevent political or economical stabilization. The center of Moscow's hopes in the Balkans is Bulgaria. Owing to defeat in war and to certain other factors, communism is strong among the peasants of that small but energetic agricultural state. There have been several sanguinary struggles in the last few years between communists and conservatives in Bulgaria. The latter are now in power, but Moscow has been hard at work here and even as I write come reports of fresh outbreaks of terrorism in an attempt to assassinate the young King Boris, a murderous bomb explosion in a cathedral, the assassination of conservative generals, a proclamation of martial law and the end not yet in sight.

Would Absorb Balkan States. What Moscow wants is to federate the Balkan states, bring the Balkan federation into the union of socialist soviet republics, then take Constantinople and have an opening upon the Mediterranean. The first step is to win Bulgaria. The second is to utilize the Croatian and Macedonian movements to win Yugoslavia. The third is to take Greece. The fourth, with the help of a direct attack on Bessarabia, is the red army, is to reduce Roumania. This program may be varied to accord with circumstances.

Generally speaking, except for specific regions like China, the Balkan states, the Balkans and possibly France, the present is a time of reorganization and recruiting in all national sections with a view to profiting by past experiences and to preparing as rapidly as possible the violent activities of the future. "The best parties," says Zinoviev, "are even now displaying very frequently genuine revolutionary initiative, stubborn energy and fighting efficiency, wise maneuvering abilities and the conscious iron discipline of a truly revolutionary fighting organization. The conviction that the communist party and the third international are playing a leading revolutionary part must penetrate the body and soul of every party organization, of every individual party member, so that out of that sense of communist fighting unity may arise unshakable faith and devotion."

Edmund Stinnes Quits Firm. By the Associated Press. BERLIN, May 27.—A brief announcement was issued from the Stinnes headquarters last night that by mutual agreement between Hugo Stinnes and Edmund Stinnes the latter has resigned from the firm. Edmund will continue, however, to represent Hugo's interests, especially in the sphere of insurance and automobiles. The new arrangement is believed to represent a division of the administrative organization of the vast Stinnes' businesses.

Discovering the Becoming Way To Fix Bobbed Hair Yourself

By LUCREZIA BORI, The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

"If I only knew how to do my hair in the most becoming way possible!"

How often I hear this remark! It is usually a despairing one because so many owners of bobbed locks are letting them go, and arranging long hair after they have gotten so out of practice seems quite an undertaking.

Another thing that brings on this feeling of despair is that many women have not confidence enough in their own ability, and feel that some utter stranger could do more to arrange their hair becomingly than they could themselves.

I mention this because numbers of women ask me if I know of any coiffure expert who will examine their profiles and arrange their hair for them to show off their features to best advantage.

Now, there are times when such aid is desirable. It may be that the person in question has not gained the proper viewpoint of her own attractions and does not play up to her type properly. The hair-dresser may be able to help her discover her true type.

But what I want to emphasize to my readers is the assurance that they can discover these things themselves, without paying out good money for the advice.

It is also true that I have often known of women who paid for the help, and then decided they did not like the new coiffure recommended to them, and preferred to discover their own.

After all, we should be the best judges of our own personalities, and I advise that all of us be on the alert to discover our own good points and use them to best advantage.

Now, in this matter of arranging your coiffure, I advise a good mirror, preferably one that is arranged in three sections so you can sit before it and see the sides and front and back of your head all at the same time. I believe such mirrors are no longer so fashionable as they were, but I shall always like them because of their help in seeing ourselves as others see us.

Of course, you can do this almost as well with a good mirror and a good hand mirror, and it is a simple matter to make use of the latter if you have not the former.

Begin by brushing your hair thoroughly, as I so often advise. This makes it fluffy and puts it in a better condition for the careful arranging.

Now you can experiment on different coiffures you may think will be becoming. If you cannot decide on which gives the best results, you can surely call a friend or two into the consultation and get critical and interested advice.

Also, a friend may be able to show you the way to get a certain effect, which you have seen and admired and not been able to achieve. This practice will, I am sure, be fully worth while. A beautiful coiffure you work out at your leisure will be most likely to please you in a lasting way. You may enjoy having a special coiffure for daytime and another for evening.

MAKING THE HOUSE SHINE

By HANNAH WING

ALTHOUGH the modern trend of invention has alleviated the housewife's weary task of overhauling the house several times a year, there seems to be an old traditional desire to scour away the dust of winter, when spring announces its coming. So when you begin to feel this ambitious wave sweep through your veins, bring out the trays, brass candlesticks, the andirons, in fact all of the nickel and brass things that have become dull and lustreless during the winter. A little elbow exertion— presto! and they will wear the bright glow of spring.

To clean nickel try a paste made by mixing whiting and alcohol or whiting and ammonia. Both are equally successful.

For the copper and brass things make a polishing paste of whiting and vinegar or a solution of vinegar and salt. After thoroughly polishing the article, wash, rinse well, dry thoroughly and then rub with a little oil. Rubbing with oil protects the article and keeps it from again tarnishing rapidly, as the oil forms a film which resists the elements. In cleaning brass if you want a coppery tint use salt and vinegar. Whiting and vinegar will produce a more yellow tinge.

Various methods of silver cleaning are possible, but the method known as electrolysis is easily and satisfactorily accomplished.

Place one quart of boiling water in a bright aluminum kettle. In this dissolve one teaspoon of soda. Be sure the water is boiling, then plunge the silver into the solution. Turn out the flame under the kettle. Allow the silver to remain in the solution for only one minute. Remove the silver and immediately pour the water out of the kettle. Rinse the silver and dry briskly.

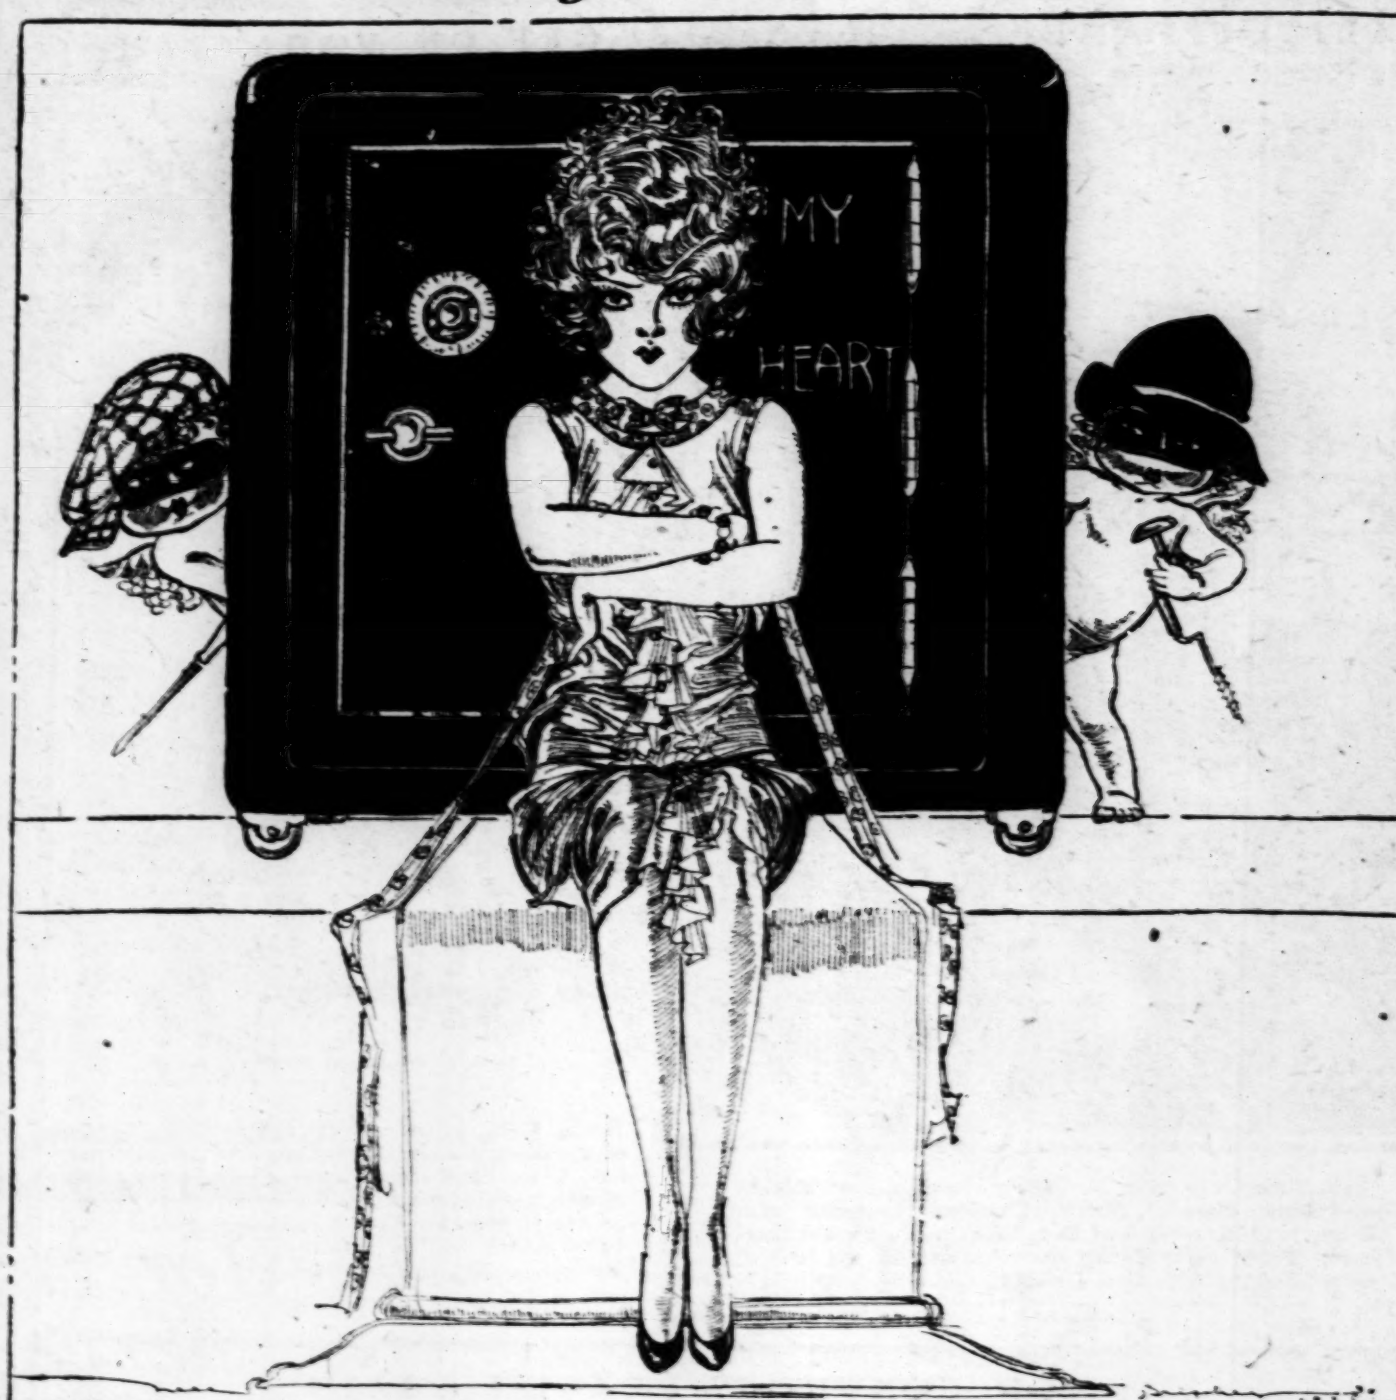

When it comes to removing dirt from painted wood work use a mild soap suds or a paste made by mixing water with whiting or any of the other mild abrasives. If the dirt seems especially resistant try a tablespoon of kerosene in a quart of warm water. Always rinse the surfaces well and rub thoroughly dry.

For the windows which admit the tell-tale sunshine the most effective methods are those using a tablespoon of either kerosene or ammonia to a quart of warm water. A chamomile skin to clean windows is a veritable godsend. They are fairly expensive, but are many times worth the initial cost. Before you use a new chamomile skin be sure and prepare it for its work by immersing it in three changes of water, hot lukewarm and cold. In washing the skin use only a very mild soap and avoid extreme heat and chemicals. This preparatory process lengthens the life of the skin.

Baked Cheese Savory.

Butter a deep pudding dish and put in a layer of carefully made, smooth apple sauce. Boil and mash smoothly six large potatoes, add a generous lump of butter, pepper salt, a beaten egg and a half cupful of warm, rich cream. When beaten light add a cupful of grated cheese, beating it through the mass evenly. Then fill the pudding dish, smooth it over the top, dot with a little butter and then spread with a tablespoonful each of dry crumbs and apple sauce. Bake until deliciously browned. Use in place of quack.

Watchful Waiting

"Noboddy," says Prissy, "can watch my safe as well as I can."

For see what I keep in it—and how pretty I am—and how smart!

"Once I let old Dan Cupid, a young-old, an oldish-youngish person I know, watch it for me. He is, you might say, an infant. And yet they do say he is thousands of years old. He was the worst I could have chosen. He was a thief in the guise of rosy smiles and gilded curls. For he cracked my safe and almost got away with my heart."

"I ran after him like the wind and got it back. And though it was whole, it was cracked a bit, and I'm sure there's a teeny-weeny bit lost out. That I can never get back."

"So now I belong to the bachelor-maid's Order of the Ringless Third Finger of the Left Hand, and unless somebody such as I never heard of on land or sea comes along, I will guard my heart myself—and my heart I will keep in a safe whose combination I only know!"

Hint—what shadows are those that lurk fatly behind Prissy's safe. Is Prissy safe?

—NELL BRINKLEY.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Homemade Polish.

Make your own furniture polish by mixing equal parts of lemon juice and olive oil. The lemon juice cleans and the olive oil polishes.

Easy and Successful Cleaning.

Wipe off the kitchen stove after each meal with a crumpled newspaper and you will not have to worry about blacking. It will look well enough without it.

In and Out of Season.

Seasonable foods are always cheaper and better. So often after a high price is paid for a vegetable or fruit out of season it turns out poorly and flavorless. It is far better to wait until the article is grown closer to home and got fresher, cheaper and better goods.

According to Schedule.

It is so important to raise babies and children according to a regular schedule, better for them and really the only way a busy mother can get fed and given their naps at exactly the same time each day, mother knows just how to plan her day and baby is happier and better natured also.

Mrs. Philip N. Moore, president of the Women's Council of the United States, has been presented with the emblem of the International Council of Women, set with amethysts and diamonds, the gift of chairmen of the 48 States and a few of the foreign delegates to the Washington convention.

Three Minute Journeys

By Temple Manning

WHERE HUMAN BEINGS STILL ARE SOLD.

AT the gateway to Abyssinia is a port that is a strange mixture of the primitive, the medieval and the modern. French Somaliland presents a spectacle that is almost unique in this day. When you enter the harbor, you are greeted by a tremendous shout from the diving boys, who are quite as much at home in the water as the fish themselves. There are perhaps a hundred of them, begging for a coin and diving and splashing about like so many sharks.

The native shows, looking as though they belonged to some ancient sea-going tribe, are painted in various weird designs as a protection against the evil eye. Nowadays they are used to transport rice and a cargo of commodities from the Sudan and Somaliland.

The Government house supplies an odd note of modernity to the scene. It is of white coral, presenting a vivid contrast to the palms that surround it. A 12-foot wall of masonry, provided with rifle posts guard this house.

The terminus of a railroad, a little beyond the Government house, strikes another bizarre note. It seems almost impossible to conceive of the era of railroads and steam and electricity and then look about at the primitive, half-naked utterly uncivilized inhabitants.

ODD FACTS

A tomb costing about $400,000 is being prepared for his own use by one of America's 15 richest men; it will contain 15 crypts.

Patients die better in tents than in any other accommodation—this is one of the lessons of the great war.

The huge gages of Henry VII's Chapel in Westminster Abbey are believed to have taken 18 years to make.

A curious fish, which does not belong to any known species, was recently caught off Iceland. Three feet long, it is jet black in color, the whole skin being covered with white spines.

The nurseries in the Lea Valley, England, produce about 50,000,000 cucumbers every year; one single firm of growers sends 100 tons of cucumbers to London every week in the season.

Head-hunting is still the main occupation of the cannibal tribes of the Upper Amazon; the captured heads are shrunk until they are as small as oranges, and then kept as ornaments.

Billy Mink Loses Respect

Respect once lost you'll find with pain 'Tis difficult to e'er regain.

—Old Mother Nature.

KING EAGLE stood beside the fish he had forced Plunger the Osprey to drop. He stood erect, his snow white head held high as he watched Plunger and Mrs. Plunger fly away to resume their flailing. He looked every inch a king. Billy Mink, peeping from under an old stump, thought so. Many a time had he admired King Eagle flying high above and thought him well named the king of the birds. He thought the same thing now as he watched from his hiding place. There was a nobleness in that great white head. There was haughty pride in those fierce yellow eyes. And when Billy Mink looked at that great hooked bill and those big curved claws his respect for King Eagle was greater than ever.

For a few minutes King Eagle stood there and Billy Mink remained in hiding, his respect growing with every second. It was a queer feeling, this feeling of respect, for there are few whom Billy does respect.

Now, if King Eagle had picked up that fish and flown away at once Billy would have gone his way with more respect for King Eagle than for any one else in all the Great World. But King Eagle didn't fly away at once. Just a few feet away on the edge of the water he saw part of a fish which had been washed up. King Eagle is not particular. He really doesn't care much whether his fish be fresh or not. That piece of fish would do for his breakfast, and then he would take the fish-ne had taken from Plunger home to his hungry Eaglets on the Big Mountain. King Eagle started for that piece of fish.

You should have seen the eyes of Billy Mink pop out. King Eagle was hopping along the beach, and of all the awkward, clumsy folks Billy had ever seen it seemed to him none could compare with King Eagle. You know King Eagle's great curved claws were not intended for walking and they were dreadfully in his way. There was no dignity about him now, not a bit. His wings were lifted a little and he was so awkward that Billy Mink wanted to laugh.

He did so. All his respect for King Eagle vanished in a twinkling. There was nothing royal or kingly about him now. He might be a fine flier, but he certainly was a joke when it came to getting about on the ground.

Billy looked over to where King Eagle was gulping down that fish. He was so occupied that he wasn't noticing anything else. Then what do you think Billy did? He darted out like a little brown streak straight over to that fish.

Charles rearranged her expression from one of eagerness to rather languid tolerance.

and magnanimously. Just contemplating almost immediate divorce, and since this is as good a place as any to begin it, I think it would be most unwise to do anything which might damage our suit. Suppose you meet me in the lounge on the mezzanine floor in 15 minutes? It's quiet there and we can talk."

Mariana was almost speechless with amazement. To make things worse her eyes smarted with sudden tears.

"You—you might ask me to dine with you," she suggested.
"There are always curious people hanging about a hotel lounge."

"Sorry, but I have an engagement for dinner," Charles announced easily. His glance strayed toward his dresser, where a gardenia, symbol of fashion, was thrusted in a glass of water.

Mariana, following his eye, bit
her lip. Charles never wore gar-denias. It must be a terrifically formal affair—or a woman, she decided.

"Very well. I will meet you in the lounge in 10 minutes," she agreed loftily, and turned haughti-ly away.

Charles closed his door upon his triumphant grin. Mrs. McPherson's advice was good, he decided.
But it took all his self-control to keep himself from dashing after Mariana and catching her in hungry arms.

She looked so fragrant lovely, as laughily as a little French marquise, he thought. He wondered how long he could hang on to his role of unrelenting husband.

It was closer to 30 than 10 minutes before Mariana joined him in the lounge. He didn't guess that it had taken her all of that time to repair the damages that quarter

of an hour of steady weeping had done to her eyes and complexion.
As it was, she felt that she was not at her best, and she deliberately chose the dimmest corner of the already shadowy lounge.

"I made this trip at considerable discomfort to myself," she reopened
the subject, with dignity. "Just to see what you wished to do about our future."

Charles feigned surprise.
"But I thought that was all arranged. I thought I was to give you a divorce so you could marry Craig Cullum."

In the dimness he couldn't see Mariana wince and change color
at the name.
"Not as I understood it," she objected. Oh, he was making it very hard, she thought.

"Remember, you refused to discuss the details of our—separa-
ration at all," she reminded him sternly. "You said you didn't want any gossip until it positively couldn't be avoided any longer."

"Oh, I see now," he exclaimed, purposely dense. "You came out here to start proceedings? Nobody will know, then, until the decree is actually granted?"

She bit her lip, too close to tears
to trust herself to speak.
"But what about Craig?" he asked. "Won't he object to your dashing off like this?"

"I have no idea what Mr. Cullum thinks—and even less interest," Mariana informed him with dignity.

It seemed to Charles as though
the sun had just risen, flooding all his world with radiance. He could have sworn he heard cherubim and seraphim chorusing joyfully before the gates of paradise.

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE.
Each number in the puzzle indicates the position of the first letter of a word.
Each word reads from left to right (horizontal) or downward (vertical), according to position. Lettered in correctly, words that cross will interlock.
Each number in the white squares also refers to a definition in the accompanying table.
Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white space allotted to it.
Each white space is to receive one letter only. Words start only in numbered squares.

One Egg Raisin Cake.
Cream one-quarter cupful butter with an egg yolk and two-thirds cupful sugar. Combine one and one-half cupfuls pastry flour, one and one-half teaspoonful baking powder, one-quarter teaspoonful salt and one-half cupful raisins, halved. Add to the first mixture, alternately, with one-half cupful milk. Stir in one-half teaspoonful vanilla and the egg white beaten light. Transfer to cup cake pans, dust with granulated sugar and a few shredded raisins and bake 30 minutes in a moderately hot oven.

—350 to 375 degrees fahrenheit. This makes nine cup cakes.

For A Summer Luncheon
Serve Oyster Patties

Oyster Patties
1 can of Oysters from Biloxi.
2 tablespoons butter.
Salt and pepper (to taste).
1 dozen patty shells.
1 small onion (chopped fine).
1 tablespoon chopped parsley.
Drain oysters, put the butter in the saucepan, and when it is heated, add the onion and blend in the flour "til smooth." Add pepper and parsley, then the oysters. Let all stew until almost thick. Fill the patty shells with oysters, adding some of the sauce. Put into the oven to heat for five minutes. Serve hot.

Nothing is nicer for lunch than a delicious oyster patty. Light, crispy patties, enfold-
ing luscious oysters, with green peas
alongside, make a satisfying and healthful
lunch. Of course, the pastry must be light, but the filler is what makes the patty a success. Canned oysters make flavorful patties. Patties made with canned oysters
do not have that flat, insipid, flavor taste.
Canned oysters give the flavor that makes every diner smack his lips.

A Hot-Weather Sea Food
Scientists have found that people are not eating enough sea food. Sea food furnishes iodine, which feeds the brain cells and gives the body the essentials for health.

Fish from rivers and lakes is good, but food from the salt sea is better. In the summer time, the average family does not eat enough sea food. Canned oysters are available all the year 'round. They are especially fine for making light summer dishes. They can be cooked and served in many palatable and unusual ways.

Biloxi canned oysters, coming from the largest packing center in the industry, are pure and safe. They contain some of the food elements that are necessary for health and strength and vigor. Insist on getting oysters packed by the Biloxi Cannery.

"PROTECTED" BEER CASE IN HANDS OF THE JURY

Judge Faris Not Only Instructs Panel on the Law but Comments at Length on Evidence.

HAS THE RIGHT UNDER FEDERAL PRACTICE

Main Points to Decide, Jurist Says, Is Whether Prather or Nations Is Guilty of Perjury.

The case of Heber Nations, former State Labor Commissioner, charged with conspiracy to violate the Volstead law by "protection" of the manufacture and sale of beer by the Griesedieck Brewery in 1923 and early in 1924, went to the jury in Federal Court at 1 p. m. today. The jury went to lunch before beginning formal consideration of the evidence and the arguments, which consumed three and one-half days.

Judge Charles B. Faris, in his charge to the jury, delivered just before it took the case, not only instructed the jurors on the law, but commented at length on the facts, and much of his comment appeared unfavorable to the defense's case. He reminded the jury that it was his right, under the practice of Federal tribunals, to discuss the facts as well as the law, and added that the jury had the right to set aside any statement of his as to the evidence, if it did not agree with him. "The law," he said, "is not bound by his statements as to evidence."

"When you find," Judge Faris said, "which of the two, the defendant Nations or the witness Prather, has been guilty of perjury in this case, you will have decided the case."

Other Evidence Discussed.
Judge Faris discussed, as of importance in the case, the testimony of Louis J. Gualdoni, former prohibition agent, for the Government, and the correspondence which Nations introduced in support of his plea that he was trying to help his brother, Gus O. Nations, then chief Federal prohibition agent for Missouri, to "catch" the brewery making beer.

Gualdoni testified that Heber Nations got him to arrange for the first interview between Charles S. Prather, then State Food and Drug Commissioner, and Raymond B. Griesedieck, vice president and manager of the brewery company, at which, both Griesedieck and Prather testified, the "protection" plan was discussed.

"You are warranted," he told the jury, "in considering the testimony of Gualdoni as possibly corroborative of the other Government witnesses. You are warranted in considering the fact that upon important, decisive points, this witness and the defendant are not agreed."

View of Gualdoni's Testimony.
"If Heber Nations' request to Gualdoni was not made, as he (Nations) said, to help his brother, Gus, to catch the brewery, then you are warranted in considering this testimony as corroborative."

"The testimony of Gualdoni, that Nations asked him and asked him to agree to say that they were trying to catch the brewery, has been denied by the defendant. If you believe Gualdoni, and if you find that his testimony is not consistent with the theory of defense, you are warranted in considering his evidence as corroborative."

"You may consider the unusual number of telephone calls as corroborative, and in the same light, the evidence of the hotel register."

Defense Letters Mentioned.
As to the letters introduced by the defense, the Judge said that the jury was at liberty to discuss the possibility that the brief McFarland note was either a "tip" to Heber Nations that the brewery was about to be raided by others than his brother's force, or that, as Nations said, it meant that the brewery was to "rust" on the days mentioned, "Thursday or Friday."

The undated letter of Gus Nations to the defendant, the Court said, was not to be discarded merely because it lacked an envelope, for many men destroy envelopes. "But," he said, "the jury can consider that this letter might have been written in good faith by Gus Nations, and yet may have implanted the thought of a protection scheme in Heber's mind."

The Closing Argument.
In the closing argument for the prosecution, John C. Dwyer, the
